Pathologist Talks On Deadly Topic

BY FRANCES ALTMAN

Cigarette smoking is comparable to being executed and taking it," declared Dr. Ralph Greene, as he spoke informally before the Arlington Heights Council of Parents-Teacher Associations at its meeting Wednesday at Wilson School.

Dr. Greene, a pathologist at Holy Family Hospital, admits he has grown a little bit cynical after more than 30 years of examining diseased organs. But sometimes a speech of humor and cynicism is needed to make an audience listen to what he has to say on such a deadly subject.

Dr. Greene had allowed the audience to examine an encased specimen of lung tissue, stained dark with tar, under a bright light.

"It takes wallpaper to hold it in place," he said, holding a single cigarette in the half hour he had been talking. "But this is not so tough."

Dr. Greene's appearance before the council was in conjunction with a film shown by the Northern Suburban Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Marilyn Kane, a representative of the unit which is located at 11 N. Broadway, Des Plaines, explained that the film was a composite of several films now available to groups throughout the country. That television film which appeals to adults as well as youngsters still grade through "cigarettes" generation," is the ultimate goal. Locally, PTA members are being asked to help at parents' junior high schools. Parents are being urged to stop smoking and a "don't start" campaign is being directed toward students 12 years and older.

For LOCAL, programs on smoking and lung cancer are being held at the Holy Family Hospital, 11 N. Broadway, Des Plaines, Ill. The film was a composite of several films now available to groups throughout the country. That television film which appeals to adults as well as youngsters still grade through

Dr. Greene went on to describe several cases, reminding that World War II compensation camp inmates as well as soldiers in the military were exposed to the same conditions. He also mentioned that the same conditions were found in the lungs of people who had been exposed to the same conditions.

Winter Meeting Wednesday

The Seventh District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its winter meeting 10 a.m. Wednesday at Edison Park Methodist Church, Pratt and Division Streets, Chicago.

Mrs. Ben Carson, president will introduce Ronald gettys, the past presidents of seventh grade.

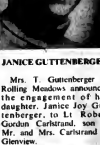

After Lunch

After lunch, the ladies club will present a domestic music program. Mrs. John Brownlee and Mrs. Donald Brownlee will then give a play, using puppets on the stage. The program will be the 19th of the series of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. The program will be the 19th of the series of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

"ALTHOUGH we can't stop for the meals this will be served this night," said Mrs. Gallagher, chairman of Arlington Heights Mothers' March. We do feel confident that this fund drive is going to provide the success necessary to expand our March of Dimes research committee.

Only last year, Mrs. Gallagher continued, tens of thousands of youngsters died or were born severely defective as a result of Rh blood incompatibility.

Toddy, thanks to a recently licensed vaccine, these deaths and defects can be prevented. And this is just one example of the incredible achievements pouring out of research laboratories in an astounding race today.

JANICE GUTTENBERGER

Mrs. T. Guttenberger of Rolling Meadows announced the engagement of her daughter, Janice Joy Guttenberger, to Lt. Robert Gordon Carland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carland of Glenview.

Mrs. Guttenberger and her fiancé graduated from Southern Illinois University, Carland is now in pilot training with the U.S. Marine Corps.

The wedding date has been set for April 13.

THE VILLAGE When the village made a New Year's resolution also to do something about the traffic hazard to students at the intersection of Elmhurst Rd. and the entrance to the back parking lot of the high school.

Wheeling's police chief Marvin Horcher, Assistant Principal Frank Bobac, Police Officer Ted Homestead and Student Council President Mike Patarozzi of 31414th. Buffalo Gro. said the conditions at the corner recently.

Chief Horcher said the study was made because of the danger caused by the heavy traffic on the Whiting High School street, the Spokesman.

A letter from a man who had nearly killed two school seniors while driving down Elmhurst to the school helped point out the problem.

the street light of 7,000 volts near the corner of Merle and Elmhurst, sends its inefficent light into the heavens. The glimmer does help motorists find the street, it must be admitted.

With the influx of new homes, and the promise of even more from as yet undeveloped property, the highways, including Elmhurst, are going to be even more crowded, the chief said.

This will increase the danger of crossing Elmhurst. Although recommendations are being made, no one is optimistic about changes in the near future.

THE RECOMMENDATIONS are to raise the street

NOT ALLOWING any left turns into the parking lot from Elmhurst would help the traffic situation, Horche feels. The cars won't be backed up, waiting. Drivers making a left turn to turn into the entrance had to watch people crossing the parking lot entrance, AND cars going south.

Elmhurst, at that corner, is a two-lane highway for the southbound, the other (northbound) without any left turn lanes.

WHEELING police regard the corner of Elmhurst and Hintz, now protected with stoplight, as once having been the most dangerous in Wheeling. There was a time when there were only stop signs at that corner. A group of Wheeling students marched their protest, and stoplights were finally installed April Fool's Day, 1968.

It took the deaths of two Wheeling High School seniors to have a stoplight installed at Palatine and Buffalo Grove Rds.

What will it take to install even a streetlight so the glare from cars at the corner of Elmhurst and the entrance to that back parking lot of the school?

WHEELING HIGH SCHOOL'S administration, too, could make a New Year's resolution - to continue to improve the school. They have already allowed a 20 minute break between classes, for students to relax and talk to friends. They have given students an open study hall.

In an open study hall, students have the freedom to go to study hall and study, to the library, or go to the cafeteria and chat with friends and use the coke machines.

A recent student council poll showed that 76 per cent of the students thought classes should be shortened. They felt that the 60-minute period now being used was too long.

Dr. Clarence Miller, Wheeling's assistant principal, felt the periods were too long for laboratory classes like science, yet too long for English and math classes.

MODULAR SCHEDULING
For many years, District 214 has been discussing modular scheduling. Modular scheduling would divide the school day into blocks of 10 or 20 minutes each. Teachers could be used in laboratory classes like science and one could be used in English or math.

Miller believes this system will be used at Wheeling

This prediction is based on what I have heard from faculty members and an ultimate decision on modular scheduling will be made then. Personally, I think I could do a better job educating students by using modular schedule. Mill said

MODULAR scheduling designed to provide more time for laboratory work in subjects such as science and home economics. The classes will not meet every day, but when the teachers want them.

A normal school day would be broken down into scheduled and unscheduled time. Wheeling High School students will attend classes usual during scheduled time which will amount to about 50 per cent of their day.

Students will spend the remainder, unscheduled time, in the cafeteria, library, study hall, or resource rooms where teachers will be available to work with students.

4. TEAM TEACHING is tied into modular scheduling. One teacher may show a film, give a lecture to a group of 75-80 students. On another day, four other teachers would break this group into smaller units.

WEST SIDE STORY
Whaling High School students could, in turn, make a resolution. They might resolve to make Whaling High School's annual musical the best play Whaling has ever presented.

This year the musical will be "West Side Story." Rehearsals will start in January. Instead of February as in the past.

“WENT SIDE Story is a most unusual production we’ve ever done,” Eric Liddell, director, said.

Since each of the members has an individual part, and many are new show business, there will be an extra load dumped on actors, according to Liddell.

Plans for the scenery is under way also. The set be all metal, and slides will be projected on the stage, walls, and on the ceiling.

Requests for tickets have been received from teachers at two junior high schools, and one elementary school. Ladd added that invitations would be sent to other area schools.

Performances will be held 9-10 and May 16-17. Names of cast members have not been disclosed. Lasker said that only students w the men pick it up. Mary will know it is not a work of art. If they leave it, she'll have to go through a period of decision again.

It all began about a month before Christmas when Mary B. went shopping. She is an ardent green thumb with the Arlington Heights Garden Club, so she naturally shopped where growing things were

She saw a wreath made out of sticks and bits and pieces and fell in love with it. She fell out of love when she heard the cost quoted. It was $75.

It looked easy enough to make so Mary decided that with all of the fallen boughs, branches and branches lying around it could be easy to make. She diverted the shopping and went twig and branch gathering.

She is an enthusiastic woman and the loose, twisted discarded from the local trees were irresistible. The result filled one side of the garage with just enough room left over for a bale of chicken wire

What¹¹ asked her neighbors, "are those scraggy, crazy things?" Mary would wipe the blood from her torn hands, bite off a broken fingernail and answer mysteriously: "You'll see."

THEY SAW. It was a giant-sized, three figure "stick sculpture" sprayed white. It had to be secretly taken from the basement of her home on

HIDEA

It was as big as a coffin. Mary described it. When finished it was a sneaky looking thing. I had used yards of that stuff that looks like ne made out of dental floss for other decorations and the front of our house was something.

Everyone is talking about who is coming to wrap the Art Museum so that it will look like a package. I had the bird sculpture on our house built on top of and I did think about it. I was proud of the house but I was not too busy with the stiletto sculpture.

Mary B. is as pretty as her husband's humor is great.

She also told about the bird sanctuary she has in her back yard. She started out with a regular size bird feeder and she had all sorts of feathered friends. She looked out one day and saw a group of pheasants trying desperately hard to eat from the tiny bird restaurant. She talked to Kotch who went ahead and built

The pheasants are enjoying their daily soup kitchen but they're getting competition from the local squirrels who come over and hang from their tails and help themselves.

All the Good would need to make the yard on S. Bristol a rain forest, would be a cover but Ron is hoping no one will mention that to Mary B. Good. Mary B. Good?

Lions Stop Touted DeLaSalle' 44-43, as Doyle Puts Out In Last-Quarter Scoring Binge

By George Hahn

St. Vitor staged a second half rally that enabled them to defeat DeLaSalle Saturday, 44-43.

Grey Doyle and Terry Cullen were the heroes for the victors as Cullen contributed nine of his 16 points in the third quarter when the Lions pulled ahead by one point. They took over with 11 points in the fourth period to maintain the St. Vitor lead.

DONALD BURKE, who scored 20 points in the game, was not enough for the Meteors as he got no assistance from his teammates. None of the other Meteors finished in double figures in either scoring or rebounding. Burke was double in check in the first half by the defensive efforts of Don Retting until late in the second quarter.

The first quarter was a low-scoring affair which saw the Meteors leading at the buzzer, 15-5. The Lions suffered through a cold spell as Retting and Retting scored one field goal each and Cullen sank a free throw. Fortunately for the Lions, DeLaSalle was experiencing the same problems. Four field goals and two free throws by DeLaSalle were about all the visitors could manage. The Lions out-rebounded the Meteors 24 to 12.

THE SECOND quarter was almost the same as the first as DeLaSalle again put eight points on the board but this time the Lions added seven as their total. The period was made up of a great number of turnovers by both teams.

Cullen accounted for four of the Lions points while Jack Bawley added a field goal and two free throws. Retting and Retting scored one field goal each and Cullen sank a free throw. The score at the end of the second quarter was 12-12.

The scoring in the third quarter was more lively as the Lions found themselves and took the lead near the end. The action was still marred somewhat by turnovers.

CULLEN took command of the game, scoring nine points, while Doyle and Cullen, who the Lions' Tom Retting, upped the Lions tally. Doyle hit for one field goal. Retting added another

Injured In Crash

The board held an executive session at the close of the regular meeting. Consideration of persons who represented the students at the Thursday night Harper Board meeting when the college Faculty Senate presented a legislative action was not punitive.

The integration of three individuals.
The statements of these three individuals—all administrators—are the only side of the controversy that the board has heard," Moss said.

The day has learned from a faculty member that on Dec. 17 a new rule was established by Hargreaves, President, Dr.

Robert Lohi for the faculty permitting "any person or group to be placed on the agenda of the board of trustees with four days advance notice." Notice of the change was received by faculty members Jan. 5.

THE THREE administrators Moss mentioned concerning Lohi are Dr. Lohi, Dr. Anderson, and John Birkholz, division chairman of business and social science.

In the case of Dr. Birkholz, Moss referred to Dr. Lohi, Dr. Anderson, and John Thompson, division chairman of science and mathematics.

The students leaders met yesterday with Dr. Lohi and were to meet today with the faculty.

Who pays your mortgage?

Probably you do now. But what happens if you have an accident or illness? You're a doctor. Sure, but what if you die? How do you make mortgage payments and pay other long expenses in the meantime?

No problem if you have a "Disability Income Policy from Country Life. Because then you can collect a steady monthly income from $50 to $100—depending on the plan you choose.

Vandalism Smear Paint on House

Ten gallons of paint were splattered on the walls of a house under construction at 1018 W. Wiggins during the weekend, according to Arlington Heights police.

Police said the intruders entered the house by breaking a rear window. The paint was held in the house. The police said.

The intruders, according to police, also broke a thermostat off wall.

Motorbike, Cover Taken

Mrs. Joan Sherrett told Arlington Heights police yesterday that a motorbike and its cover were taken from the back yard of her home at 1171 E. Central Rd.

The bike, Mrs. Sherrett said, was being stored under a canvas cover. She said the bike, which she had bought in 1965, was taken sometime in the last 90 days and she did not notice the loss until yesterday.

salaries by this method during the years 1970-1971.

Teachers got less money mostly under 12-month contracts than they did with nine-month plans.

A teacher with two years' experience earned $120 a month, or $1,440 a year. If she taught year round, if she had a nine-month contract, however, she was paid $113.33 a month, or $1,360 a year.

Students had more problems under the 12-month plan. "There was a single incident," says the study, "on the part of students in full school years who were bored with their regular period."

Although summed up the advantages of its plan this was not made part of the year.

Fewer schools are needed, cutting desks and insuring costs.

Fewer is schools are needed as any one time. Students have a better chance to make up work lost by extended period.

absence. Considerable economy in the school budget has been achieved.

It is difficult to carry on maintenance work, such as painting and cleaning. Too much paper time wasted at the end of each quarter and the beginning of the next.

Many pupils and teachers are forced to take their vacations at an inordinate time of year.

There is much more administrative and supervisory work.

PLPLS WHO transfer into and out of the school system which run on the traditional nine-month program had problems.

year. It solved a very vital building problem at that time when the school board had educational opportunities and programs of the people.

Some phases were difficult to administer, but ways and means were found to overcome satisfactorily most of the major problems.

Pennsylvania's grant of additional school money for teachers' salaries on the 12-month plan added in the financial affairs of the district.

The four-quarter plan was begun in 1938 when the building situation was relieved as a result of the war.

Next, Occidental of Columbia High school students are affected by Atlanta's year-round plan, which began last September. How is it working?

Anywhere you can run wire, you can heat or cool-electrically.

Modern electric heating and air conditioning means comfort. Any way you want it. And anywhere you want it.

Electric heat lets you design the heating arrangement best suited to your home—and your needs. For instance, with a central system, it's easy to add air conditioning, electronic air-cleaning, or dehumidifying. You can even combine various electric heating systems. If you want. Or install non-thermostatic control for bedrooms or baby's room.

And if your house ever has to grow some just to keep up with your family, no need to invest in a bigger furnace. With modern electric heat, adding heating capacity for each new room can be as easy as adding new wiring.

In fact, give us enough wire, and we'll heat the world. And cool it. You wait and see.

New Church Group Plans First Assembly

Church Women United of Northwest Cook County, newly-formed local unit of the national Church Women United movement, will hold its first Annual Assembly Friday, Jan. 17, in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church, Eastman and N. Duane St., Arlington Heights. The meeting will be held from 9:30 to 10 a.m., preceded by a coffee-fellowship period beginning at 9 a.m.

A nursery for preschool children will be provided. Arrangements for the program are under the direction of chairman of the day, Mrs. Melvin Born of Arlington Heights.

Guest speaker for the assembly will be Laura Lutz A. Bacerra, member-at-large of Chicago, has a bachelor of theology degree from Sillman University, Duquesne City, Pa.

From 1962-1967 she was director of Women's Work, United Church of Christ in the Philippines and is a member of the executive committee of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches. In July, Mrs. Bacerra attended the six-day meeting of the World Day of Prayer International conference in Sweden and presented in completion of plans for the 1970 service and conference of themes for 1971 and 1972.

THE BUSINESS meeting will be conducted by Mrs. O. Ivan Cole, chairman of the steering committee. Bylaws for the newly-formed unit will be presented for adoption. Mrs. R. B. Yaden of the Christian Church of Arlington Heights will summarize the board of managers of Church Women United. Mrs. Bacerra, presently doing graduate work at McCormick Theological Seminary in principal provisions and answer questions.

A slate of officers prepared under the leadership of Mrs. M. L. McCall of the First United Methodist Church in Arlington Heights will be presented to the group and an election will be held. Mrs. Paul Lutz-Sauer will install the new officers.

All church women in Northwest Cook County are urged to attend. Notices of the annual meeting have been mailed to churches principally in Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, Mount Prospect, Palatine and Elk Grove Village.

Laura Lutz A. Bacerra will address the newly-formed unit in Northwest Cook County Friday, Jan. 17, at the First Presbyterian Church, Arlington Heights. All church women interested in ecclesiastical action and development in Northwest Cook County are urged to attend.

St. James Women Plan Inter-Faith Tea

A step toward demonstrating a genuine ecumenical unity is being taken by the women of St. James Catholic Women's Club.

The spiritual committee of the club is planning an Inter-Faith Tea.

An open meeting on "Smoking-Health Hazard," sponsored by the Rolling Meadows Junior Women's Club will be held at 8:30 p.m. Jan. 13 at the Clubhouse, Center in Rolling Meadows.

Mrs. Daniel Weber, health chairman, and the program is sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs in cooperation with the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Peter Plank, representing the American Cancer Society, will be the speaker and the film, "A Time for Decision," will be shown.

Faith Tea as a means of bringing together women of various churches. The tea will be held Thursday, Jan. 30 from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Recreation Room of the Convention at Arlington Heights Rd.

Chairman Mrs. Robert Nielsen, and co-chairman Mrs. Sam Kenna have sent invitations to the women membership of the various churches in Arlington Heights and Beth Tikhav Synagogue in Hoffman Estates.

Lady of the Visitation Catholic Church, negotiations United Church of Christ St. John United Church of Christ First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights, Kingswood Methodist Church, Unity Northwest Church of the Daily Word.

Mrs. Richard Friebel, spiritual chairman, has arranged for Sister Gabriel of Sacred Heart High School in Rolling Meadows to speak on "What Are Our Children Learning from the Movies?" Sister Gabriel teaches a course in movie criticism and has given many lectures on this subject.

WOMEN OFTEN HAVE BLASPHEMOUS THOUGHTS. They are not alone. Many men have them too. But women are more likely to act on them. That's why women are more likely to be arrested for blasphemy than men. (This is a joke.)

Susan Tiedmond Bride Of Ed Besterfeldt

(Christopher Allen Studen) The Prospect Christian Church, Prospect Heights, was the scene of the Dec. 21 wedding of the former Susan Lynn Tiedmond to Edward Arthur Besterfeldt, Mount Prospect. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Neumann, Arlington Heights, and the groom's are Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Besterfeldt, Mount Prospect. Both the bride and groom attended Prospect High School.

Sign Up Twenty-One Members

Twenty-one members have affiliated with Gamma Theta chapter of Epistol Sigma Alpha, a new non-academic society chartered locally on Dec. 16.

Mrs. Allen Schofield, president, recently appointed Mrs. David Patterson, publicity; Mrs. Jean Clinton, vice and treasurer; Mrs. James J. Shickler, philanthropist; Mrs. Clifford Lamm, secretary and bookkeeper; Mrs. Richard Terry, secretary; Mrs. Louis Egan, secretary; Mrs. James Borne, contact; and Mrs. William McDonald, educational director.

NEW PLEDGES intended into the chapter at the time of chartering were Mrs. Egan, Mrs. Lamm, Mrs. David Farr, Mrs. Robert Scott, Mrs. James Kopp, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. William Shickler and Mrs. Don Walsh. Gamma Theta will meet the first and third Mondays of each month. The first meeting will consist of a business session and an educational program, the second monthly meeting a social.

Mr. Edward Besterfeldt

Marshall performed the 5:30 p.m. ceremony in a candlelit setting. The bride, wearing a one-piece white gown and red-embroidered lace gown, was escorted to the altar by her brother, Mr. Neumann. Red-embroidered lace scalloped highlighted the gown's jewel neckline with lace bands being reported to be in A-line cut. Other distinct features were detachable waistline train and a shoulder tip veil of silk tulle which fell from a low bun of matching lace. For her bouquet the bride selected a cascade arrangement of white starburst pompons with ivy.

ATTENDING the bride as maid of honor was Mrs. Jean Copeland. Her royal blue chiffon gown was accented by her bouquet of pink starburst pompons with ivy.

After a wedding trip to Springfield, Ill., the newly-married couple returned to Waukegan, Wis., where the groom attends Wisconsin State University.

It's Thinking Time For College Bound

By FAITH OTTER

Today, in our competitive times, students begin contemplating college at a far younger age than in the past. By the high school years, these thoughts are usually building up in the minds of most college-bound students. To help in preparing for college, high schools and their counseling services are offering continual help through various programs.

HENRY HIGH SCHOOL has planned a College Information Night for parents and all of its junior class students Tuesday, January 14. The meeting will be conducted by Floyd Hillman, college consultant for the school, and will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria at 1900 E. Thomas Rd., Arlington Heights.

ONE OF the topics Hillman will be discussing is the necessity for students to begin thinking about college early.

"If they don't get started by their junior year so that they get everything completed in plenty of time," he said, "it will hurt them."

The meeting will be very informal. It will be a presentation about college in general information. They will also have a question and answer session.

ONE EXAMPLE might be that of a small private liberal arts college. Another might be a medium-sized private university. Still another type of college might be a larger, state-supported, public university as the University of Illinois.

Parents' Fears

DEAR MRS. CLIXON:

(I do not feel because you have been both parent and teacher for your child, I believe that parents and teachers should be more closely related to help children, yes, I am guilty of not wanting to go to school to ask for help when my children come to be having problems. I never really want to go to school even in a PTA meeting.)

Dear Mrs. C. McK.:

I think that the best way to answer your question would be to list a few of the fears of parents:

1. Parents fear that they will make a poor impression on the teacher because they themselves do not speak the language of a teacher, and the feeling of inferiority may affect the child's creativity.

2. Parents fear that the teacher might ask about problems in the home, and perhaps blame the parent.

3. Parents are afraid that the teacher might repeat, unthinkingly, things said to her about their children.

4. Parents are afraid that they might be asked to help with homework and they might not be able to do this, because of lack of knowledge about new methods of teaching.

5. Parents are afraid that the teacher might react to the child in a hostile way, because the teacher might take these suggestions

Northern Illinois University in DeKalb.

"The first two kinds of schools possibly could be more flexible," Hillman said. "Most of the time, you get a definite cutoff limit on class rank, or upper cutoff limit on the upper quarter of your class. Where you stand in class is important. However, these smaller, private schools often will take a look back at the individual student's record, both in grades and in class. Under these conditions, a high school senior who has a particular kind of student record could be a particular kind of student who would benefit from the type of program that their particular college will offer."

"Most state-supported schools in Illinois have not set up early definite guidelines on class rank and test scores. They can be pretty cut and dried, if they want to, about who gets in."

HILLMAN SAID that the University of Illinois generally admits about 5,000 freshmen. He said the university has definite guidelines on class rank and test scores. They can be pretty cut and dried, if they want to, about who gets in.

These deadline dates mean, for instance, that all high school seniors who have their senior year in the fall of Nov. 1 will be notified if they are accepted or rejected before they are accepted or rejected.

So far this year, the University of Illinois has already had more than enough applications even though it has given high school seniors more time to send in applications.

One of the questions parents often ask, according to Hillman, is how to find out if a school is a good one. He says he will explain some of the factors of scholarships, loans and other aid.

THIS IS just an example of why getting started early is a good idea.

Hillman, who joined High School District 216 in 1961, has been a college counselor at Arlington High School since 1961.

In 1966-67 and his family spent a year in Massachusetts where he picked him to be the first high school senior to take part in a new program, Under Harvard, which is a high school counselor out of Harvard's admissions staff, District 216 gave Hillman a year's leave of absence to be available to students.

Types of financial assistance available to students. "The word scholarship as many parents know it," he said, "doesn't mean what it used to mean when they went to school. For all practical purposes, scholarships are given primarily on the basis of need rather than just being a reward for grades."

"It is possible that two students with different grades who apply to the same college both might receive financial aid."

However, the one with the lower grades might need more money. Hillman, though, says it is "very much so" that he gives more financial aid to the one with the lower grades.

One of the higher grades might get the financial aid in the "gift" fund, while the other might get it in the "need" fund.

He says he will explain some of the factors of scholarships, loans and other aid.

Who's Master, Man or Machine?

"It is a human being. Please do not feel, please do not feel, please do not feel," he said.

That slogan started off a derivative social science. But it now has been replaced by what seems like a new unitary group: the Institute of American Futurists.

The executives are worried about a common problem: the institutions get bigger and machines get more complex, there seems to be a growing threat that the individual will get lost in the shuffle, that he will become the prisoner of things that were set up to make him.

Some forward-looking businessmen already have begun to act against this danger. For example, the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has established two programs, in hopes of insuring that a worker can have a truly satisfying job, rather than being just a small cog in a big machine or a human part in a dehumanized system.

The two AT&T programs are called "Work Itself" and "System Training." AT&T says that the programs are aimed at different aspects of the problem. As in any machine, work itself is designed to turn out overproduced routines into jobs that allow people to use their intelligence and ingenuity to the full. ST&T is aimed at building the potential for human interest and growth in automated systems.

THE PROBLEM that both programs attack isn't new. More than three decades ago, it got a definitive and stingily witty treatment in Charlie Chaplin's "Modern Times."

Chaplin's Little Tramp, who spent all day tightening bolts on a assembly line, was happy to get the work. Jobs were scarce, and the alternative to a boring job was no job at all. But that was before the era of affluence.

Today's worker is better off, but in three hours gets more money and doesn't have too much difficulty finding another job. Where the need for food and clothing once was motivation enough for work, today's worker looks for something more to do. He offers a challenge. But, too often, he gets turned off by a jet age equivalent of the Little Tramp's belt-tightening chore.

THE PROBLEM isn't confined to blue-collar workers. Engineers, office workers and even executives can find their

Timm Promoted By Portland

Appointment of George D. Timm of Arlington Heights as Chicago public works engineer for the Portland Cement Association has been announced by Jack V. Barnes, Midwest regional manager.

Timm served as general field engineer for PCA in the northern metropolitan area of Chicago from 1961 to 1964 when he was named paving engineer for the Association's Ontario, Canada, district. For the past year he has been an assistant project director in PCA's vocational education section at the General Office in Burlington.

In his new position, Timm will work with state and Cook County officials, engineers, and construction industry personnel involved in all types of public works projects using concrete. Prior to joining PCA in 1958, Timm was employed by Goodkind & Oates, Inc., Chicago consulting engineers. He is a civil engineering graduate from Marquette University, and is a registered professional engineer in Illinois.

initiative misled by legend of leading supervision and centralized policy-making. The problem was summed up in a complaint by an AT&T executive: "We've lost custody too many people who are still with us."

Henry M. Bottlinger, AT&T's assistant controller, put it another way: "The great question we must face now is how to reconcile man with his machine, or to put it another way, how do we bring machine and man together in a sense of mutual respect rather than tension of disapproval."

A small group of social scientists has been offering an answer. The Work Itself program had its genesis in the theories of one of them, Frederick Herzberg, a 44-year-old psychologist at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland.

FOR YEARS, Herzberg has been preaching an antithetical doctrine: that most workers want jobs that require more effort—it's the right kind of effort.

AT&T first put Herzberg's principles to work in 1960, in its department working with shareholders. There, a group of bright young women, 70 per cent of them college graduates, were answering the stream of questions sent in by AT&T's more than 3 million stockholders.

The work obviously requires intelligence and ingenuity before the Work Itself approach was given a name, there was little room for either. The women were clearly supervised, and the work was done by the book and almost every letter they sent had to be approved by supervisors. As a result, job turnover was high.

UNDERWORK ITSELF, AGAIN, THE results were

Businessmen Look At Generation Gap

Clayton Baumann, North area director, Youth for Christ, will address the Prospect Christian Businessmen from 11 noon to 1 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 16, at the Renaissance in Mount Prospect Shopping Center, 8160 Mt. Road.

Baumann will speak on the Generation Gap between 17 and 27 years and promises insight and understanding the good side of our youth today.

most of the supervision was eliminated. The women began to write and sign their own letters, which went out unchecked. They were encouraged to take over the mail. In short, they were given as much responsibility as they wanted to take.

The results surprised even the personnel executive who had proposed the program. Says Robert N. Ford, who is in charge of the program: "The right reason for trying to improve 'Work Itself' is every human being in the business is simply because they are human. The fact that this program appears to increase the human spirit is not the reason we do it."

IN THAT spirit, Work Itself is not imposed from above. Instead, Ford holds "three-light sessions" with groups of supervisors, who are encouraged to come up with job enrichment ideas. Ford has found that good ideas tend to spread through the company.

surprising. Almost all the jobs were completed on schedule. Productivity rose, overtime dropped, and so did the number of errors. And the flow of grievances came to a rapid and total halt.

The Work Itself idea now is being spread throughout AT&T. While statistics show that it does increase efficiency, the company prefers to stress the human spirit. Says Robert N. Ford, who is in charge of the program: "The right reason for trying to improve 'Work Itself' is every human being in the business is simply because they are human. The fact that this program appears to increase the human spirit is not the reason we do it."

IN THAT spirit, Work Itself is not imposed from above. Instead, Ford holds "three-light sessions" with groups of supervisors, who are encouraged to come up with job enrichment ideas. Ford has found that good ideas tend to spread through the company.

Instead of developing a system that was efficient but in terms of its machines, the designers were told to include human factors in the design process. Jobs were no longer shaped to fit the machine's capabilities; instead, such factors as job satisfaction and human capabilities were equally important. Perhaps most important, the way was left open for management to take over more responsibility as they learned more about the system. Says Bottlinger of STAR: "SOMETIMES we have been guilty of thinking about jobs 'right,' as though the routines were created by shooting hot plasma into mold. Then there became someone's job for all time. We should instead think about jobs as though made of parts, rather like a child's Erector set. First, do the easy things; then the piece-parts are there for the more advanced."

The importance of STAR is bound to increase as companies move into more of the areas now occupied by human workers. While there now are an estimated 52,000 computers in United States, there will be some 120,000 by 1975.

The extent and success of programs like STAR and Work Itself will help determine whether man makes the master of these machines.

...over to annual budgets rather than the 2-year budgets he has worked with in the past.

Schlickman is convinced that the change to an annual budget is a great step forward and predicts that it will save the state money.

"EVERYBODY FAVORS change," he said. "It is a non-controversial move. There will be important savings. In the past it frequently has been necessary for those making upstate budgets to guess what would be required during the second year.

Because no one knew for certain what funds would be needed, it was necessarily rough enough to make sure, in effect, mounted in an

325 Freshman Sign For Next Fall at Viator

BY PAUL MORFE

Last Saturday, St. Viator High School of Arlington Heights held its annual registration for incoming freshmen and placement examinations. A total of 325 eighth graders from area parochial and public grammar schools registered, according to Father Thomas Langford, C.S.V., assistant principal and dean of studies. Father Langford said that there will be another registration sometime in April for those who could not attend Saturday.

An important question

AFTER they had spent three hours of taking tests and filling out forms, I asked some of the future freshmen why they wanted to go to St. Viator. One of the registrants, Rick Bruen, brother of Bob and Bill, who attend St. Viator, 802 S. Maple, Mount Prospect, said, "The reason I want to go to St. Viator is because it's a great academic school. There is great school spirit, both during athletic events and during the school day. I have two brothers going there and they both like it. I've influenced my cousin, Dave Bruen, to go there also. Another good point is the excellent discipline." The brother of Rick's, Bob Crutch, brother of Tom and Tim, said, "I like St. Viator because it's a good Catholic school. I want to go to college and it's a college prep school. My brother and I don't feel it was a great school." Mike and Tom Bruen are both graduates. Phil and Tom, and 802 S. Maple, Mount Prospect, said, "It seems quite apparent that St. Viator is a better school than the other schools."

TOM KLEIN, 212 S. Third, said, "I think St. Viator is a better school because the teachers are good and you study more, getting a better education. I want to go out for cross country and swimming. Even though Arlington has a state cross country team, there is a better chance in getting on a team and also look at the swim team."

John Hoppe, brother of this reporter and Mark, 365 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights, remarks: "I like the teachers here because you can learn better and you can talk to them outside of class about your problems. It will be an interesting switch from St. Viator to the priests and brothers at Viator as a teacher, also, it will be different without girls. In staying opinion, you have no limit, because there are no girls in St. Viator."

BASKETBALL seems to be the reason why Dave Yeager, 129 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights, wants to go to Viator. In addition he said, "There is more discipline both in behavior and in studying." Brian McFalls, 902 W. George, Arlington Heights, said, "From what I've heard, Viator is a better school. You get a better education and though the classes are equal to a public school, I think that there is a stronger unity among the guys at St. Viator. The school spirit is important." The brother of Tom and Tim, Mike, said, "I like St. Viator because it's a good Catholic school. I want to go to college and it's a college prep school. My brother and I don't feel it was a great school." Mike and Tom Bruen are both graduates. Phil and Tom, and 802 S. Maple, Mount Prospect, said, "It seems quite apparent that St. Viator is a better school than the other schools."

LOAN BRIEFS The sophomores are planning an ice skating trip to the Polar Dome in Dundee. They have not set a date but plan to hold the event some time in February. Besides, receipts from admission to a sock hop.

Some of the activities talked about in Student Council have been the creation of a Freshmen Extension Board for the purpose of sponsoring eighth grade boys about the school and the Student Council meetings in the auditorium to leave them open for the student body, also, it will be decided whether the junior and senior classes will be required to wear the navy blue Viator blazer.

SOCK HOP FEATURING "FOR DAYS AND A NIGHT"

The Senior Class presents "For Days and a Night" Saturday, Jan. 25, at St. Viator High School, Oakton. Admission is $2.00 for students and $3.00 for non-students. There will be a surprise for in attendance. Proceeds will help defray the expenses for the Senior Prom.

Day by Day Front and Center

By Catherine O'Donnell

Harold Bell, executive director of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, hints strongly that it might be a good idea for some local gentlemen owners or operators to own a lot of lots in the village, ring and secure a village or township government elective job. Bell, a quiet dignified gentleman, has a way of making the monthly newsletter of the Chamber provocative as well as informative.

He says it is somewhat surprising that so few of the people in local government, whether it be village government, school district, park district, plan commission, or what have you, are people who are locally employed.

Jack Walz is, of course, an outstanding exception; and we may be overlooking others (check Peter is one) but, by and large, the wonderful, dedicated people who serve us live here but make their living outside the village.

It seems to me it behooves every Chamber member to search his own heart and conscience to see if and when he might find it possible to render this kind of personal, hard-working, devoted effort to the community good.

But businessmen all over the country are coming more and more to the conclusion that they must take a more active part in the shaping of our politics. It's no different here in Arlington Heights.

Bell later mentioned Viator as another prime example in which local insurance men involved in village government.

He's on the planning committee. The latter was on with population and business growth.

Recently John Woods made the headlines a little bigger than usual by saying: "The Arlington Heights area has entered the ranks of the top 100 municipalities in Illinois, and now larger than Quincy, Bloomington, Elgin, Rock Island, Moline and Kankakee."

At about the same time, a list of cities came across our desk showing the amount of sales tax remitted by the state to various municipalities in September.

Arlington Heights got $58,172.57; Quincy, $48,057.00; Bloomington, $48,018.32; Elgin, $48,018.32; Moline, $48,018.32; Kankakee, $48,018.32.

We sort of put these little old towns that Arlington Heights has outgrown having to carry on all that big business and all by themselves; it looks as though our sales men's keeping up with our population.

And then Bell says, "Hutchinson is a village. The danger flags are flying all over the place, and it's time to look around to see if we have the wherewithal to better down our haphazard-economically speaking. Five warning flags provide the following:

Consumer prices rose in October for the 21st consecutive month, a gain of 6 per cent, the steepest rise in six years. New orders for machine tools rose to a spectacular $3.57 million in October, a 45 per cent increase over September. October's picture on foreign trade, defined as a result of $63.2 million deficit, a 7 per cent increase over last month. If General Motors has to pay 1 per cent on that loan, the rest of us pay 4 per cent and significant changes in the stock situation. Perhaps the stock market is performing its traditional function of "marking down" what's to come in the business cycle."

Elmwood Park Earns Win Hersey Two Points Short Again; Lose 63-61

Hersey almost put together everything in their second round victory of the year Sunday night against Elmwood Park. The Huskies led 17 points while the Hawks led 10 in a pair of 6-4s, after being down by as much as seven points in the first period.

The Huskies had a good first half and scored 16 points in the first period. The Hawks performed out of Mark Jacoby and Mark Linderum as they took an 18-15 lead.

After the first quarter and stretched the lead to four at the 12:30 mark. The Huskies' lead to the outside shooting of Jacoby as he finished the first quarter with 17 points while Linderum piled up 10. The Huskies had an added bonus especially in the last period as they scored 16 points off the bench for a down-point and won the game 63-61.

HOWEVER, THE balanced attack was not enough to offset two of the Tiger's best players. Park's starting center John Pender scored 21 points while Jacoby, a 6-4, grabbed a dozen off the bench and got a hot hand to finish the game with 15 points. Linderum hit on 10 of 13 field goal attempts while Catellano hit on six of 12.

by from the charity line as he chased nine of 13 while the Tiger hit on 23 of 36 in a ston. The Huskies could only count on 17 points as compared with 22 for the Hawks.

Elmwood Park took a quick 2-0 lead in the first quarter, but the Huskies came back to score the lead on a charity and a driving layup by Jacoby. A pair of free throws by Dick Powell and a tip shot by Don Sperry kept the Huskies up until five straight points by Catellano and Tiger. Bob Luciani knocked the balance of seven all with 512 to provide the seven-point margin, and the Huskies began to get into foul trouble, and the Tiger made the best of it by hitting four straight at the foul line and getting a tip shot to cut the lead to two at 19:17 after a free throw by Jacoby.

The Huskies managed to hang on and made basket in Linderum picked up a pair of free throws to go with a charity by Catellano and Aldridge each picked up a pair for Elmwood Park. However, Aldridge was awarded a pair of free throws after being fouled by Toneri, and made them both, cutting the lead to one at 27:26 with a minute to go in half.

on eight-point lead. However, they were again played by the Huskies to run the game before the Tiger. Aldridge and a three-point play by Luciani could tie the game at 38-38 with 6:03 left to play. Three quick baskets by Aldridge put the Huskies down by four at 44-40 after a pair of free throws by Powell and Fager. However, a layup by Jacoby and a tip again at 44-40. Unfortunately, Fager went to the bench seconds later with five fouls in rehashing as well as another pair of chances at the foul stripe. Catellano picked up three more minutes and a pair to go with a 12-0 run by Aldridge to give the Tiger a 51-40 edge at the end of third period.

A 15-FOOTER by Linderum and a pair of free throws by Sperry kept the Huskies close.

At the start of the final period, the Tiger ran the lead to five on the foul stripe. Aldridge and a pair of free throws by Toneri kept the Huskies in the lead game at 55-52 with a momentous jump shot by Toneri.

However, Catellano and

Grens Take Tumble in Final 24; Lake Park Adds Third EG Loss to Slate

By Jim Hwert

Elk Grove's aspers were edged in their match with Lake Park Sunday night, 55-46, despite the fact the score was even with 24 seconds to play.

The Grenadiers led at the end of each time period, except the last, frustrating a bigger and faster Lancer team by working the ball, without for a defensive mistake and capitalizing on it.

second, it was L.P.'s press that turned the contest, as the Grens gave up the ball four times in the backcourt for scores, either from the field or on foul shots.

Elk Grove's John Finch led his team in scoring with 13, as well as leading the field with 10 rebounds. Frank Schultze was the only other Grenadier to make a double figure in the low-scoring game.

For the winners, Mike Kramarczuk took a pair of a scoring slump to total 31, hitting 14 of 20 field goals.

Lancer Vic Tomczak placed second with 16 for the evening.

KRAMARCZUK OPENED the scoring after just five minutes had elapsed by hitting a pair from Lou Aronoff after the jump ball, and counted two from the foul line.

However, it was ER Grove who took the lead, with the pair shooting 10-13. The pair scored 10-13, with a pair of free throws and a half court layup by Grove.

points, the best of the evening at 34-24, with just over a minute to play in the second quarter.

Kramarczuk then picked off two EG passes to score three points, the quarter's end.

HERSEY EXTENDED the lead to four at the in-between, with a pair of free throws and a tip shot by Jacoby while the Tiger made the best of it by hitting four straight at the foul line and getting a tip shot to cut the lead to two at 19:17 after a free throw by Jacoby and one by Toneri for

Whistle Stop Game Stoppers

by John Katzler

Each week, the basketball officials in our area get together and review the rules. During these interregional and study periods, many interesting play situations which have been experienced by these officials come to light.

For today's column, I've selected several of these cases and the proper ruling associated with each.

PLAY NUMBER ONE: During the Elgin-Dekalb game, there were eight seconds remaining in the second overtime period when Elgin held a timeout. The referee ruled Elgin indicated that this was a second, or successive time out.

Should the official permit this or is it prohibited by the year's new rules regarding successive time-outs after regulation playing time has ended?

RULING: The new rule only applies when the regular playing time or any overtime period has run out. Therefore, since time was still on the clock for the second overtime period, either team was allowed to call as many successive time-outs as they had remaining.

PLAY NUMBER TWO: On a throw-in situation, the ball was thrown in such a manner that it lodged in the basket support. This is a violation for not combining a player to rebound within five seconds?

RULING: No, it was not. To do so would place the throw in as a disadvantageous intended by the spirit and intent of the throw-in. Accordingly, was called a held ball and resulted in a jump ball if the thrower's feet crossed between any two opponents.

PLAY NUMBER THREE: On a field goal attempt, a defensive player slapped the backboard and caused it to vibrate in such a way that the ball was in the air and did not go into the basket.

Should the official mark this as a violation to the offense team? What should be done if the ball went into the basket?

RULING: It is not an offense should the official award two points for dropping the ball into the basket. However, the shot is always a technical foul, whether the goal is or not. If the ball goes in, the basket counts and a technical foul is still assessed the defense.

PLAY NUMBER FOUR: During a drive for a basket, the defensive man fouled the dribbler as he stepped his motion to shoot. Before the ball left his hand, the time for the period expired and the foul counted. Was this to be considered "continuous motion"? If so, many free throws would be awarded to the shooter?

RULING: "Continuous motion" must include a legal try. Since time expired before the ball left the shooter's hand, the "continuous motion" rule did not apply here. Thus the shooter is awarded only one free throw, unless the bonus situation is in effect. In the latter case, he gets a foul-out.

PLAY NUMBER FIVE: During a recent Chicago Public League game, one team was down to three players the other were lost via the foul (route). As a gesture of good sportsmanship, the other coach volunteered to substitute two of his players in order to tie the game. Is this a "nice" thing to do?

RULING: It is a very nice thing to do, but, unfortunately, it is not permissible. The rules clearly state that a team must use five players in a game as that number is available. (The "good" guys lost again.)

So much for this week. See you next Wednesday when we'll conduct our annual quiz. Till then, hang on to the rules so that you can become a truly successful great-and-official.

WITH 423 to go Schultz delivered the first breaker from out front, but the Packers retained to put the total at 53 with two and one-half minutes left.

Jim Camphouse gave Grove the advantage again by driving the left side of the line at 2:10 for two. Pender used Grove's two-point count by hitting a free throw after Kramarczuk had counted one for his own for an 11-10 lead at the quarter.

After the quarter, the Grenadiers out-matched the Lancers over-matched the Lancers, 9-8, but it was not enough and Grove took the lead, 16-15, at the half.

Kramarczuk again led the Lancers with 11 points, while Pender had 10. The Lancers' first score for the first score of the game. Just five minutes later, the LP guard was fouled by the Grenadier to put his team on top, 24-18, and then 11-4 over three minutes later.

AT 2:24 in the second quarter Finch drove under the basket and flipped the ball over his head for two, the first mark for the Grens in that time. But LP mauling him made him lose the lead, 16-15.

Finch pushed EG to within a point once more two minutes left to play, and Pender matched with a cause and a half left, to regain the top spot for the Grenadiers at 14-13.

Kramarczuk counted from the left side to put his team on top, 24-18, and then 11-4 over three minutes later.

Kramarczuk fouled Finch.

THE CLOCK READ 01 as Finch went to the line with the most one-point behind shot was successful on the first shot to tie the lead, 24-24. Grove on the second try, put Grove up to the half, 16-15.

Lake Park coach August Pender almost made a foul mistake in the third quarter by instructing his jump ball men to double the man who shot the ball.

Finch took the squad from Pender and drove the right side of the line at 18:15 minute. Again Lake Park's right-back shot score, however, marks from Grove's left side. Pender and Schultz increased the lead to 24-20 with five and a half minutes left.

Lance Arndt finished 10 after two missed under-throw. Drevin added two to the score to protect his team's 2-0 lead from the quarter.

A pass from Chris Pender resulted in a half goal but foul shot by Drevin and Finch led EG to 28-20, Elk Grove.

Lance Arndt finished 10 after two missed under-throw. Drevin added two to the score to protect his team's 2-0 lead from the quarter.

A pass from Chris Pender resulted in a half goal but foul shot by Drevin and Finch led EG to 28-20, Elk Grove.

Architect Firm to Draw High School Plans

By Richard Crabb

Several steps were taken Monday by District 214 school board in the development of a seventh high school to be located in Rolling Meadows High School.

An architectural firm specializing in school buildings, Crabb-Crabb and Associates of Skokie, was selected to develop plans for the Rolling Meadows high school on Central Rd. which will be built for 3,000 students.

Superintendent Edward M. Cifelli read the letter from the Chicago Architects confirming that the building and campus of the Sacred Heart of Mary School, located across Central Rd. in Rolling Meadows from the site where the new high school is to be erected, is for sale.

The Rolling Meadows Park District proposed that an official and the officials of District 214 consider cooperation that might be worked out for the benefit of the Rolling Meadows community as the new high school that area is planned.

THE ARCHITECTS will have to prepare two sketches and accompanying cost estimates for the new Rolling Meadows High School.

One will be the planning of a new building on the Central Rd. site large enough to house the 3,000 students.

The second plan will involve planning a building that would be used in conjunction with the Sacred Heart of Mary structures across the road.

The difference in the cost of the two plans would be the amount District 214 could offer for the Sacred Heart of Mary school plan.

The architects will have to complete their studies in time for the April 12 referendum.

Deborah Haiden Is Stewardess

Miss Deborah Sue Haiden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haiden, 545 S. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights, has graduated from the United Air Lines stewardess training center and has been assigned to the company's twin-engine fleet at O'Hare International Airport.

She graduated from Carle Place High School in New York and worked as a secretary for United Air Lines before starting the five-week stewardess training course.

Who pays your mortgage?

Probably you do now. But what happens if you have an accident or all these? You'll receive. Sure. But when? And how do you make mortgage payments and pay other living expenses in the meantime?

No problem if you have a Disability Income policy from Country Life. Because then you can collect a steady monthly income from $50 to $500—depending on the plan you choose.

at which the district will authorize Whittington, Elk Grove and portions of Palatine and Melrose Townships to approve the bond for erecting the new Rolling Meadows High School.

John A. Hallerud, director of parks and recreation for the Rolling Meadows Park District, spoke to the board Monday evening, urging that park district and the board of District 214 maintain close communication during the planning of the new Rolling Meadows High School.

He predicted that a number of ways would be made to make the school structure more useful to the Rolling Meadows citizens as a result of joint study of the plan by both the boards of the school district and the park district.

HALLERUD suggested that District 214 send representation to the Rolling Meadows Park Board meeting Thursday at which time possible areas of cooperation would be discussed.

Gilbert reported to the District 214 board that state and county highway officials are planning on eliminating the sharp turn in Arlington Heights Rd. at Dundee Rd. at the north end of Arlington Heights.

If the curve is developed north of Dundee Rd., the 40-acre tract of land owned by District 214 on which is planned a future school building would be split into two sections of 10 acres and 30 acres.

The board indicated it will attempt to sell the present site in even the highway is routed through it.

In such event, another 40-acre tract in the general area would be sought.

Teacher Wins Scholarship

Stacy Mary Shaw, a member of the St. Patrick's Academy Religion Department is the recipient of a $1,000 Cardinal Meyer scholarship.

She will be on leave of absence next year for study toward a master's degree in religious education at the university of her choice.

Sister Mary Shawn was selected from a group of 28 applicants.

The shape of things to come!

Just like the 1968, Buick for 1969 is coming on big again in all Chicagoland. First in sales in the big car field. And that's not all. The Buick-made Opel is coming on strong too. Opel, as featured by John Mufich, is rapidly becoming the fastest selling imported car in America. Come on out for a test run and be a corner tool.

... and coming soon!

Our new showroom and service facility is proceeding on schedule on Rand Road and Henry in Mt. Prospect. More than five acres and more than 32,000 square feet under roof. The new John Mufich Buick will be almost four times larger in the service area and contain greater display space for new and used cars. We'll also carry larger inventories of, of course, more personnel to service you faster and better.

In coming trades from fresh '69 Buick sales!

Sanitaria to Release Licenses For Market

By Barry Peterson

Licenses to operate in 1969 will be granted to four stores in Arlington Heights. Dayton and Kensington, according to village sanitarian Morris Albem.

The four were threatened with a refusal by the village to grant a 1969 license because of improper handling of garbage in the Arlington Heights market area.

Albem said that Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the four stores had been cleared up.

Albem said that Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the four stores had been cleared up.

SOME 130 residents in the area had petitioned the village last December, complaining about the conditions of the market area.

The petition was sent to the village by James Grob, 111 N. Gibson, who said in a letter, "Surprisingly, about 10 percent of the signers said they were using the shopping center because they believe their cars are dirty."

Grob added the letter said that discussions with store managers brought up the contention that "the public is responsible and people should be made aware."

Albem said that Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the four stores had been cleared up.

Assistant Village Manager John Conte said Tuesday that the village had been aware of the situation "prior to receiving the petition."

"We have had a problem with this situation. From early September until the first of December we were without a village sanitarian, and we got behind in our routine license inspection."

He said when present sanitarian Albem inspected the stores in the Arlington Heights market area, he found five stores for deficiencies.

Conte said Albem's inspection was made two days before he got Grob's petition.

"The problem the Market Area was that a part-time man handled the emptying of garbage and they were getting a part-time job done," Conte said.

Thomas Chinnock, a spokesman for Furr, Chinnock and Semmon, the Market's managing agent, said his agency has contacted someone to handle full-time garbage collection in the market.

He decided to name the agent, saying the contract is still "verbal."

Planners Recommend Against Grocery Store

By Barry Peterson

A proposal to build a grocery store and parking lot on the west side of Arlington Heights Rd. just south of the intersection with the village right to the village board by the Plan Commission with a unanimous vote not to approve it.

The commissioners then decided a possible "greenbelt" zoning choice between maintaining the residential nature of the land south of Arlington Heights Rd. or opening it to commercial use.

William Moore, attorney for the developer, said the rezoning request included 15 foot strip of land just north of the northwestern lot of the Arlington Heights subdivision.

The northwestern lot also was included in the rezoning request.

Moore said the rezoning and annexation to the village for the strip and the Arlington Heights lot would allow construction of a White Hen grocery store and additional space for office use.

He said the area would provide 25 parking spaces, and the store would be open from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Albem said that Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the four stores had been cleared up.

School System Nearby Considering Year-Round Classes

By Ann Bove

Atlanta, Ga. high school students began their four-quarter plan last September—a plan which less than 100 schools in the state have adopted. But during the last 45 days of the year, every other attempt in any part of the United States to have a 12-month school program has failed.

WITOUT exception. Nevertheless, year-round school for at least one Chicago suburban district could become a reality as early as 1977.

Swinging to a 12-month school plan could be the answer to rising enrollments in Glenbard High School District #7, which serves Glenview, Evanston, Des Plaines, and parts of Cook County.

The 12-month school plan does not mean that students would be in school year-round, without a vacation break. What it does mean is that the school would be used all year long, with certain students scheduled to attend during the summer and others getting a vacation at different times of the year.

Glenbard District #7 is studying all possible combinations.

William Ditch, administrative assistant to Glenbard's superintendent, says that District #7 either will have to adopt a 12-month program or build four high schools, Glenbard South, so that "that's what projected enrollment shows the district."

More than 400 Boy Scouts from Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows are expected to take part Saturday in the annual Klondike Derby sponsored by the Oak Woods District of the Northwest Suburban Boy Scout Council.

The all-day outing will get under way at 8:30 a.m. at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve with a health and safety inspection by district leaders, to make sure the boys are adequately dressed for the day.

Paul R. Adair, of 825 N. Madison, Arlington Heights, who heads the outing committee, said the event will be a one-hour timed endurance trail using homemade sleds built by the boys out of old which plan for year-round school they trust and the board to consider. "We first have to get the board to accept the philosophy of the plan," said Ditch.

"Then it would be up to the administrative staff to make recommendations. The superintendent and I still haven't found the year-round plan that is going to help us, in the sense that we're a district that is growing rapidly, we are having financial problems. We have not yet found a school system that has stayed with the 12-month plan for any period of time. We have the idea that year-round school saves money.

"Your major cost is in operating schools—primarily in salaries."

"I can agree with the philosophy of it very much, because I don't look on this year-round plan as a system that saves any money at Glenbard for any long period of time."

"We've got to make a decision on the 12-month school plan next summer," said Ditch.

Intra-Mural Big At Harper College

By TERRY CARTER

What are energetic, busy college students doing on volleyball courts, hanging on gymnastic apparatus or juggling with facility members? They are taking part in just a few of the sports and activities offered in the Intramural program at Harper College.

The Intramural program is championing active student participation, said in Director of Physical Education, Professor Roy G. Kerner.

Despite the college's split campuses - Forest View and Elk Grove high schools - students who want to relax with a good session of basketball, some weightlifting or volleyball are making it a point of taking part.

THE INTRAMURAL activity takes place on the Elk Grove campus. That poses some problems, but hasn't slowed down most students. Kerner makes a point of pointing out that the program is an excellent way to gain experience through the college experience.

students. And there's always that old standby - "word of mouth."

The intramural program

got its start with the college

when it opened in 1967.

It's a varied program consisting of running, tennis,

kick football, soccer,

volleyball, basketball, swimming and gymnastics.

And more informally,

there's weightlifting, juggling

(both formally and informally), puff blowing (that is, side-by-side) and even old-fashioned

free-form aerobics.

Free-form aerobics

is popular, Kerner

explained, because of the many fine gymnasts in this area.

Martha Lynn Rott, instructor in physical education and a coordinator for the intramural program, commented that there will be even more activities in this coming spring season.

Activities will be table

tennis, shuffleboard and an experimental program.

She said, "We try to create activities which will appeal to students. And we hope it's what they would want to have."

LAST YEAR, the college

period in which no classes were scheduled. This year,

TO OVERCOME this, the annual director scheduled a Tuesday night intramural activity time. It brings together most activities in the

Elk Grove campus in this area.

Kerner repeatedly reminded students to schedule classes leaving time for intramural activities.

And to make it even easier to "work off steam," the field house is open every night

from 9:15 to 10:30 for supervised intramural activity.

ONE ASPECT of the program isn't contained in the field house. That's bowling which is carried on in the Elk

Grove Bowl. Just last week a tournament for intramural bowling was completed.

Future plans look progressive. Kerner and Min Bolt are scheduling co-ed

volleyball for Tuesday night bowling.

As for the future, Kerner explained, "We're looking

A Warm Way to Spend A Very Cold Evening

Presiding over the cheese table, Mrs. Harvey North helps a guest cut his chunk of bread with Swiss Cheese Fondue at the Alpine Ski Lodge, takes leave in the St. Paul Lutheran School gymnasium. Mrs. North was one of eight ladies who prepared the Alpine dinner for 126 people.

Fondue at Its Finest

Want to try your hand at making the authentic Swiss Cheese Fondue, or the Swiss Cheese Toasts served at the Alpine Ski Lodge party of the St. Paul Lutheran School?

The eight ladies of the committee who whipped up the Alpine dinner (including a 55-pound mass of beef) are: Mrs. George Mueller, Mrs. George R. Bane, Mrs. Harvey North and Mrs. Eric Emil of Mount Prospect.

District 59 Pares Services To Meet Budget

Secretarial and library services have been kept rather than the teaching staff in District 59 as long as expenditures below the maximum budget limit of $6.5 million, Don Thomas, district superintendent, said at a budget meeting Monday night.

This could result in a $46,000 savings by June 30, 1969, he said.

Taxi book shortages have been alleviated by selling surplus supplies among schools within the district instead of buying new books, Thomas said that this should result in a $15,000 saving.

The purchase of textbooks for the district was based on an increase in enrollment of 1,400 pupils. Instead the increase was 1,050 leaving some schools with extra books on hand.

Principal's salaries were discussed Monday but no conclusions were reached.

Bill Linkowski, district administrator, said the salary range for principals should be decided in the new future.

Missionaries Discuss Life In Pakistan

Edmond Ramussen, a missionary to West Pakistan, and his family will be at the Prospect Heights Baptist Church, Westing and McDonald, Prospect Heights on Sunday.

During Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. the entire family will talk about a typical day in their life in Pakistan. Ramussen will speak during the 11 a.m. service. Slides will be presented in the 7 p.m. service.

Ramussen's activities in West Pakistan include work in a mission medical dispensary, preaching, teaching and insurance distribution. He also served as a member of a group of 32 missionaries sponsored by the Evangelical Alliance Mission in Pakistan, which has its headquarters in Wisconsin.

Cash Stolen

Arlington Heights police are investigating the theft of $113.34 from Jack's Information service station, 300 W. Northmore Way.

Jack Blich, manager of the station, said police he never disappeared from a cash register yesterday.

BY ELEANOR RIVES

Are you fond of fondue tantalized by torts? Then come spend a snowy winter evening with us in a great, comfortable Alpine Ski Lodge where good Swiss food and wine await you around a glowing fireplace.

In Mount Prospect? Yes, indeed.

You may think of it as the premiere of St. Paul Lutheran School but with a little research, much ingenuity and a great deal of advance planning, the St. Paul Married Couples transformed it into an Alpine Chalet for their recent winter party attended by 126 people.

COORDINATED BY Mrs.

George Mueller, right, "Alpine" and their wives, wearing turtleneck sweaters and "Come to the Mountain" All patterns, acquired up the Alps, atmosphere and hosted the party.

In the foyer of the gym, guests found themselves in a forest of evergreens, accented with spotlights and dotted with the lights of the Alps.

A pair of chaise-longue doors led to the interior of the Alpine Lodge.

In the center of the room stood a massive octagonal simulated fireplace, painted to resemble brick, complete with a "flame" of revolving lights and a cone suspended from the ceiling. Tables extended from the fireplace in all directions.

like the spokes of a wheel.

A LITTLE artistic hand-drawn on the wall and some walls of the room created the effect of chaise-longue windows looking out on winter and mountain scenes.

At the cheese table, but chafing dishes of Swiss Cheese Fondue provided a flavorful coating for chunks of bread in guests' hands.

The ladies, wearing the same costume carried trays of Swiss Cheese Toasts to tempt guests' appetites.

At the wine table, a "Vintner" served Italian Swiss wine in wine glasses that became souvenirs for each person to carry home with him.

At style. It consisted of roast beef in 55-pound pieces, meat and ham, baked potatoes, green bean casserole, sweetener red cabbage, asparagus, cranberry sauce, relishes and rolls.

The cheese table became the desert table at which guests had a choice of four different kinds of wine, all elegant and scrumptious.

Pineapple, rum, chocolate wafers and Scotch were served for their pleasure. The torts were obtained from Helen's Pastry Shop in Mount Prospect, where Viennese pastries are a specialty of the baker.

George Bane, master of ceremonies, extended a welcome to everyone. Entertainment followed the Alpine dinner.

there, Mrs. Frieda Bane of Chicago, who is herself Swiss, studied and sang in Swiss. Arrived in Alpine costumes, three musicians from the Chicago Zither Club, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Meich and Miss Ruth Fohl, performed on amplified alto, in Austrian dress. Mrs. David Bane sang three numbers from "The Sound of Music."

As the evening progressed, the crowd danced polka type numbers, joined in the singing, drank a hot Swiss drink much like hot brandy, and ended the evening bathed in an Alpine glow of friendship as they sang "Edelweiss" in unison.

What a warm way to spend a cold evening.

Chicken Tetrazzini; Easy To Make, Easy on Budget

By Charlotte Erickson

This is an adaptation of Carol Crouch's Chicken Tetrazzini. Carol has the reputation of being one of Polatin's best cooks. Easy to make and easy on the pocketbook, this dish will make any meal a truly festive occasion. Make it up in quantity and freeze some for future meals or entertaining.

CHICKEN TETRAZZINI
Single Recipe
Yields Serves 8

4 large chicken breasts or 1 large (3 lb. or more) roast or hen
1 bouquet garni (1 bay leaf, several peppercorns, celery root, sprig of parsley, and one small onion, sliced)
2 cups hot water
125 lb. round "New Mill" Bohemian noodles
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 lb. fresh mushrooms
1/4 cup butter
2 tablespoons onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper
Garlic salt

Silvered blanched almonds
Additional grated Parmesan cheese

SAUCE
1/4 cup melted butter
1/2 cup flour
1 cup milk
1 cup half and half or sour half and half
2 eggs warm chicken stock
14 fresh basil leaves
1/4 cup nutmeg wine
1/4 cup nutmeg wine

Double Recipe
Yields Serves 16
8 large chicken breasts or 2 large (3 lb. or more) roasts or hens
2 bouquets garni (2 bay leaves, several peppercorns, celery root, sprig of parsley, and one small onion, sliced)
4 cups hot water (1 quart)
250 lb. round "New Mill" Bohemian noodles
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup butter
4 cups grated Parmesan cheese
1 lb. fresh mushrooms
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper
Garlic salt
Silvered blanched almonds

Additional grated Parmesan cheese

SAUCE
1/4 cup melted butter
1/2 cup flour
1 cup milk
1 cup half and half or sour half and half
2 eggs warm chicken stock
14 fresh basil leaves
1/4 cup nutmeg wine
1/4 cup nutmeg wine

Double Recipe
Yields Serves 16
8 large chicken breasts or 2 large (3 lb. or more) roasts or hens
2 bouquets garni (2 bay leaves, several peppercorns, celery root, sprig of parsley, and one small onion, sliced)
4 cups hot water (1 quart)
250 lb. round "New Mill" Bohemian noodles
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup butter
4 cups grated Parmesan cheese
1 lb. fresh mushrooms
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper
Garlic salt
Silvered blanched almonds

tablespoons Parmesan cheese, plus 1 cup of sauce (for single recipe). Mix well.
Wash and slice mushrooms; sauté in butter until soft. Add salt, garlic salt and pepper. Continue cooking 2 cups sliced mushrooms. Pour this mixture over the spaghetti mixture, spreading it evenly.
Now arrange whole chicken over the mushrooms. Pour remaining sauce over chicken with additional Parmesan cheese. Sprinkle cheese rather heavily over the entire top. Bake at 350 degrees F for 30 minutes. If cheese topping is not sufficiently brown, put it under the broiler for just a minute or two until golden brown.

TETRAZZINI SAUCE
Melt butter in large skillet or pan; add flour and continue stirring until the flour is all dissolved. Gradually add warm chicken stock, stirring constantly. Add milk and cream; continue stirring until sauce thickens. Add bouillon cubes and stir until they are dissolved. Add wine.
Carefully strain this mixture while giving the Chicken Tetrazzini a delightful dip.

forten texture. However, if you use a short storage life. When they get ripe or over-ripe you can mash them and put them into a freezer container, date, label and freeze them. Use them later in soups, casseroles, waffles, banana bread and cake. This is a particularly good idea when buying bananas on sale; then use them later at your convenience.

BANANAS

BY MARGARET MURPHY
Years ago my husband was transferred and we had to sell our house. At that time many homes were on the market and I anticipated difficulty in disposing of it, especially since the house was in need of decorating and we wanted to avoid the expense. I fortunately conceived the idea of making a double cookie recipe and, just before a prospective buyer was to arrive, to put a bush of cookies in the oven. By the time the doorbell rang, the cookies were done. I was so proud of myself that I was dreading them with pondered patience.

Well, sure, I did not take the time to tell the house. On the day the sale was consummated, I was asked to include the cookie recipe with the deed of the house.

BAKED BREAD
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup rolled oats
1 package dry yeast
1/4 cup lukewarm water
1/4 cup molasses
1/4 cup brown sugar, light
About 8 cups all-purpose flour, sifted
Pour boiling water over shortening, salt and rolled oats. Mix and cool to lukewarm.
In lukewarm water soften yeast. Add molasses, brown sugar and 1 cup of the flour. Beat until smooth. Add rolled oats mixture and enough flour to make a stiff dough. Mix thoroughly.
Turn dough on lightly floured board. Knead about 12 minutes until smooth and elastic.
Shape dough in a warm greased bowl. Cover with surface very lightly with melted industrial oil. Let rise in a warm place (80 to 85 degrees F.) 2-3 hours or until doubled in bulk.

bulk. If let my dough rise in the oven which I heat for about 3 minutes at 250 degrees.
TURN OUT on board and divide into three parts and shape into loaves, let rest, done-ness covered for 10 minutes. Shape into loaves.
Place in 3 greased loaf pans. Brush top with melted shortening. Cover and let rest about 30 minutes.
Bake in hot oven (375 degrees) for 35 minutes. (When bread is done, it shrinks slightly from the sides of the pan and sounds hollow when lightly tapped.) Turn out loaves to cool on wire racks. This bread freezes nicely.

Harpert College continued to come out on the bottom end of the hardwood when the Hawks took it on the road Tuesday night, 110-97, in a round-robin basketball game. The loss dropped the Hawks' season mark to a 2-11 record, a three-game home stand coming up.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S basketball was almost as closely a shooting contest as the Hawks' 104 shots, with only 44 from the floor. The Hawks shot 11 percent, 439. Normally, that would be enough to come closer or win on the junior college level.

Unfortunately, Waubunsee's Chiefs were not from the floor. The re-chiefs hit on 43 of 81 tries for a very respectable 53 percent. The difference in the ballgame came as a result of the Hawks' shooting. The Hawks shot 11 percent, 439. Normally, that would be enough to come closer or win on the junior college level.

Walthouse Looks to 130-Point Output

By Curt Wilson

As for the opposing team, Walthouse said, "I don't think that either of them appear to be a threat to us at this time. Barrington has much of their strength in grad seniors last year, after finishing 15th in the state."

Clarendon North, a new school, hasn't been doing as well as last year, but it's still a threat. "I don't think it's going to be a long time before I had a team that could do it again," said Walthouse.

TONIGHT, WHEN Arlington comes to play at Barrington, Walthouse won't be too disappointed if the Chiefs win. "They won't be 130 points, but they'll be 130 points," he said.

"Just to say make over," he said.

According to the state-wide gymnasium ratings, based on last year's point-per-game average, Arlington was still ranked number one in the state. "We're going to be the number one team in the state," he said.

Walthouse will be competing in three events, the still rings, the horizontal bar, and the parallel bars. Clarendon has been a leading point scorer for the Chiefs as a top all-around man this season.

Jim Broussard, another outstanding performer, will be working on the rings, the still rings, and the parallel bars, along with Haines.

NICK ISSACS will be the only other Cardinal to go in more than one event, as he will compete on the rings and on the trampoline and as third performer in floor exercise.

"Kevin Lindsey is looking good on the rings," said Walthouse. Lindsey garnered an 8.45 rating last week against Fremd, and he will occupy the number one berth again this week.

Walthouse concluded by saying that he was hoping that everyone would win in the state because, "It's about time to start getting on top in the state and getting ready for the state meet."

Grove Brings 102-Point Mark Into Prospect's Gym Tomorrow

By Linda Hamilton

Sports Editor

The challenger is Elk Grove, the established team in Prospect. The two meet tomorrow night in a gymnasium inside that is likely to see more than 200 points scored for the night. The game is in Prospect at 7.

Both teams have been strong most of the year, but both hit their peak last Thursday.

"IT OUGHT TO BE a real good meet," claim Prospect coach Rich Chew. "With them coming off 102 last week and in coming off 102, it will be good."

Chew added, "I think both teams are psychologically ready for each other. Psychologically, but perhaps not physically. Henry Fernandez has been hurt and hasn't been practicing too much," said Fred Gaines, Grenadier head man. "But I think he'll go Friday night."

WHEN ASKED where Grove was strong, Chew replied, "The 1st Fernandez. That's where they're strong."

Fernandez' injury may or may not effect him in the meet. "A shoulder muscle tightened up on him after he took those three free last week," said Gaines. "Should the muscle heal, Fernandez stands a good chance of heading a few events tomorrow night. If only one does, he doesn't compete in the final piece."

Perhaps Chew is happy that Fernandez hasn't hurt at trampoline. "We're not all about in trampoline and tumbling-free exercise," said Chew. "But I would be surprised if they are leading at trampoline."

ALMOST THE SAME thing happened last week when the Knights came off the rings with just 15 points, the Knights scored 29.5 in the free exercise, but they pushed up over 100 for the first time.

When Harvey, Gary Meyer had the best score in that event. "They're basically a jump team," said Chew. "And this may be to our advantage. We have more experience in depth. Not deep as Arlington has, but we have more depth than the average strong school."

Chew admitted that Elk Grove's number one man may be better than some of his. "I would imagine that our third man is better than theirs," said the new scoring system instituted that year where the average scores are added up and then the place number is added, the second and third man are put at important positions.

"I Never Felt So Old in My Life"

By BARBARA PETERSON

The "most beautiful Lander Old in the World" opened Sunday night and I never felt so old in my life.

Miss America, Judith Ann Ford of Houston, 18, who was crowned at the opening ceremony of Lander Old in the World, is a 16-year-old girl from the Oldsmobile showroom on Road 64 in Central.

Girl reporter here, who is still on the sunny side of life, but not by much, was assigned by The City to cover the press reception at the Holiday Inn.

watching her transfixed several of them stood on the lawn trying to get closer to local notables came forward to be photographed with her.

NO ONE offered to get me another drink, except a nice little maid who was passing champagne 100 if she was a day. No one offered to light my cigarette or asked me where I was from. I finally got to feeling as though I had been Gen. Lee's horse at Appomattox. My husband was mingling nimbly around the outskirts of the crowd, hoping to get a better look at Miss America. She goes all over the country, making appearances, meeting new people, and being invited to places like the Nixon in August ball.

AS I stood there, shifting uneasily from foot to foot and joining no one would offer to fetch me a wheel to protect against the night air, it all looked mighty good to me. Finally, in recognition of my advanced years I suppose, I was taken up and introduced to her. She was charmed and surprised when she won the world-famous contest.

Everything's so different now—I don't see my friends. I'm not in school. I'm changing overnight," she commented.

AS I searched her face for any sign of crow's feet (there were none—I guess there aren't when she is just 19 and in perfect physical condition) I finally managed to blurt out a question.

"What's your favorite sport for all the fast packing you have to do?"

She smiled, looking even lovelier, and said quickly, just try never to impact! At the time this seemed one of the most brilliant drawing roomsters I ever heard. They had me away, and soon Judith Ann Ford left, too, to go back to her seat on the red-carpeted dais at the Lander Old in the World, to hold the bouquet of American Beauty roses and march the crowd who came to admire the new crown, the showrooms and Miss America.

I finally found my husband. We were drinking champagne and chatting about the football game with an impressive cop who had drawn the reception at special duty in addition to his regular shift. They had both given Miss America a thorough up-braiding.

ON THE WAY home, my life's companion, known to his host of friends as "The Old Egg-burger," turned to me and said fondly, "Just think, you're old enough to be her mother!"

Next time maybe they'll let me interview Miss Myerson. I feel closer to her, somehow.

MY HUSBAND, whose idea of Sunday activity is to open another flip top while watching the Good Book on TV, showed a remarkable interest in my assignment. He volunteered to accompany me, not only to the showrooms to look at the shiny new cars, but to the reception. He allowed he could manage to force down champagne caviar and eggs Miss America.

The willowy, 10-year-old blond-haired scholar and trampolinist sport was sitting calmly amid the popping flashbulbs, wearing a not even with gold buttons, looking young, healthy, poised and young.

Democrats Veto Village State

There will be no Democratic state in the April village election. Wheeling Township Democrats said Tuesday, but the Wheeler Democratic Organization may support individual candidates.

Committee Chairman James McCabe said Monday night that a meeting of 30 precinct captains last week it was decided that the party not run a slate in the village election.

"We decided the Wheeler Township Regular Republican Organization felt that the village politics of Arlington Heights should be consolidated on a non-party basis," McCabe said.

We have always felt that the people in Arlington Heights want a non-partisan election," McCabe said.

However, McCabe said, after the caucus announced in candidate Jan. 26 at a public meeting, the organization might pick individual caucus or independent candidates to support.

"I doubt we will," McCabe said, "but, if a good candidate comes along, we might support him."

"Until we talk about support," he added, "we'll have to wait and see who's running."

Cooper Heads Heart Fund Drive Here

Mount Prospect Heart Fund leaders for the February drive that has been announced by Mrs. Joseph Korman, North Cook County chairman.

Mrs. Richard Cooper, 75, Albany, will represent as chairman. This is his third year. Kathleen Walters will serve as treasurer. Mount Prospect's drive goal will be $2,750.

Chief Bernhard Koopman of the Wheeling Fire Department will lead the "Fireman's Drive." This is his first year with the North Cook County heart team. Marvin Smith, vice president of the Wheeling Town and Savings Bank, again will be treasurer. The Wheeling goal has been set at $1,000.

Geological Society Topic Is Agates

"Rock Hunting - U.S.A., Chapters 1 and 11, Lake Superior Agates" will be the program for the Thursday, Jan. 16, meeting of the Des Plaines Valley Geological Society. The meeting begins at 8 p.m. in the West Park Fieldhouse, 651 Wolf Rd., Des Plaines.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. L. Cunningham, national leaders, authors, lecturers and gem craftsmen from Chicago will present the color film. Visitors are welcome.

Savings and Loan Assn. Notes Record $55.5 Million Assets

A record breaking year for Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association was reported Tuesday at the association's annual meeting in Williamsburg, Va.

Total assets rose 16.4 per cent during 1967, association president Donald F. Morton announced, to a high of $55,000,000.

Savings rose $4,573,021, a gain of 10.7 per cent over the preceding year. Two-thirds of this amount—$3,067,717—came in the first six months of 1968, making it the highest six-month savings period in association history, Morton said.

The association's $2,841 savings accounts had an average balance of $2,078 at year-end, he announced—the first time it has exceeded the $2,000 level.

A record $1,056,749 was paid to savers in savings during 1966, while total earnings distributed to savers were 11.2 per cent above a year ago, Morton said.

Des Plaines National Displays Watercolors

An exhibit of watercolor by a Mount Prospect resident, William E. Broder, on display at Des Plaines National Bank, 675 N. La.

A member of the American Watercolor Society, Broder's paintings have been reproduced in many leading magazines and calendars and in Great Britain.

Broder was born in Canada and came to the United States in 1920 to join his father in Detroit and in Chicago. He began his career as a designer in a large advertising studio and opened his own studio as a freelance artist and painter.

Among the paintings in his art corner is a watercolor of the interior of the Benedictine chapel at Zwettl in Southern Germany.

Ice accumulation on trees was given as the cause of leaf power failures in the northwest suburbs by Walter C. Lambari, district superintendent for Commonwealth Edison Co. said.

A tree broke the pole in a short circuit it created into the contact it broke, he said.

Police from Mount Prospect through Rolling Meadows reported brief interruptions in light service.

Boy Scout Council Reports Record Year

New recruits in service to boys were called up by the Northwest Suburban Boy Scout Council in 1967, according to Robert Seiser, council president.

Details of the preliminary report will be given to the community in connection with the 50th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, said Seiser.

According to an application in the Boy Scouts of America for the annual charter, the Northwest Suburban Council serves 235 religious, school and community organizations with a total of 364 Scout units, Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops, and Explorer posts, and 15,710 registered members.

The successes that we note in our summary report are the result of 5,500 volunteer adult leaders who have given dedicated leadership to boys.

10 Area Children Win In McDonald's Contest

Ten northwest suburban children were among 150 winners chosen in the McDonald's Coloring Contest, sponsored by the Chicago-based McDonald's Operators Association.

The contest, open to children 12 and under, was divided into three categories, and under seven in one and 10 to 12 in two.

The investment of $12,405,838 in mortgage loans during 1967 was another high, he said. Of this amount, $103,900 went toward the construction of new homes and $10,081,900 for the purchase of existing homes.

The total Federal Savings loan portfolio, involving approximately 2,500 homes, amounted to $48,105,146 at year-end.

Morton noted that 1967 was a record year for the association's financial position.

Urgently needed during 1967 is a renewed growth in savings comparable with that of the first six months.

"The flow of savings has an important effect on the association's financial position," he said.

The demand for housing of all types is steadily increasing and is producing an ever-growing demand for mortgage money.

watercolor in 1965. He has exhibited at the Chicago Art Institute, the Detroit Art Museum, the Museum of Modern Art in New York, the National Museum of Art in Washington and in more than 75 galleries throughout the United States and in Great Britain.

During his five-year service with the Army, Broder gained recognition with his paintings of army life. He was commissioned by the Army as a chief of staff to make a painting of the office of General C. Marshall, and he also has murals in the theater and hospital at Fort Custer.

Among the paintings in his art corner is a watercolor of the interior of the Benedictine chapel at Zwettl in Southern Germany.

Mount Prospect police reported no sign of the "R" which is supposed to be standing at the corner of Madison and Ocean. Police contacted the Mount Prospect Police No. 1 Department, which put up a new sign.

With this report on our foundation, we expect to expand our scouting membership and increase our program quality as a part of Boypower '70, the eight-year, long-range plan of the Boy Scouts of America which is now being launched.

Other highlights of the annual report show that 5,538 Cub Scouts advanced at least one rank and 3,500 Boy Scouts advanced, with 97 reaching Scouting's highest rank, Eagle Scout.

Boys earned 5,881 merit badges during 1967, with swimming, personal fitness, first aid, camping and cooking being the most popular.

The council conducted 311 adult leader training sessions and 3,300 junior scoutmaster instruction in the skills of scouting. Some 1,400 Scout camps at one of the council's two summer camps in Wisconsin.

Those winning walk-talkers were Chris Schwartz, of Des Plaines and Lisa Sanders of Arlington Heights.

Younger winner was Linda Rukh and Kenneth Taylor of Arlington Heights.

Laura Fielder and Felix Hegren of Barrington, Kim Peterson of Wheeling, Kathy Hertz of Palatine, and Chris Ellithorpe of Hoffman Estates.

'Life' Lesson At First Church Christian Scientist

The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

This verse from Romans is the Golden Text of the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Life" which will be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

At First Church of Christ Scientist, 403 S. Evergreen St., Arlington Heights, services will begin at 11 a.m.

Among invited speakers to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by the denomination's founder, Mary Baker Eddy, is the following: "Life is eternal. We should find this out, and begin the demonstration thereof."

Life and goodness are inseparable.

Man Hurt As Lime Bays Fall

A Den Pleasant man was hospitalized following a construction accident at Arlington Heights Park early yesterday, according to Cook County.

William Arnold, 47 of 1350 E. Road Rd., Den Pleasant, was admitted to Northwestern Community Hospital with lime burns to his eyes.

"We won't know the extent of injury until the burnages are taken off in a couple of days," Jack Ryan, hospital spokesman said.

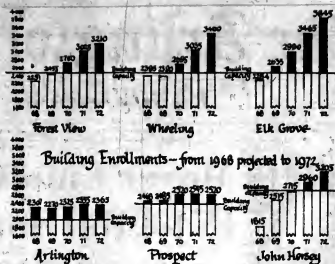

Treated at Northwestern Community Hospital and released were William Barnes, 41, of Wheeling and James Key, 50 of Chicago.

Cook County police said that the men were standing under a freight elevator used for construction when one of the elevator broke, dumping four bags of lime over their heads.

"Operation Crime Stop" now has about 60 members, according to the chairman of Commerce County Sheriff Harold Bell said last night.

"It's pretty noisy," Bell said. "We get a few registration cards every day, but the number coming in is slowing up."

Operation Crime Stop is a citizen-participation program designed to allow private citizens to call police if they see or suspect a crime in progress.

The six high schools in District 214 now will not have room to handle rising student enrollment. Growth will come in the northern, the eastern, and the southern parts of the high school district. A referendum in April will give voters the chance to approve funds to build a seventh high school in Rolling Meadows. Lay citizens' group has recommended an eighth high school, for Buffalo Grove, to open in fall, 1971. Year-round school, says member lay citizen's group, might make the eighth high school necessary.

Crime Stop Members Here Now Member 620

Registration are issued a membership card with a number and when they telephone police, they identify themselves by their number instead of by name.

Names of participants are withheld from the press, and a membership list is kept only in the private file of Police Chief L. W. Calderwood and Chamber Manager Bill.

Crime monitors are called upon to testify in a case only if they agree to have their testimony and names used.

All-Year School Offers Solution - And Problems

Schools if one of its members get extra practice and extra income of the year-round system, while other students would be in debate teams when school closes in June?

Even if you handle athletic eligibility?

Even the "authorities" don't have an answer yet. On Aug. 5, 1968, Harry Plutaghe, executive secretary of the Illinois High School Association, wrote this letter concerning the eligibility of students attending a high school that operates on a year-round calendar year instead of a two-semester calendar year.

The IHSAA board does not feel that it is in a position at the present time to rule on the matter. The board might be in attendance at a meeting on each year's program.

In a matter which needs clarification in the immediate future.

As you know, the "difficult work" which is assigned to work with this at Forest View High School, 162 at Wheeling, and 91 at Arlington.

I plan to discuss the matter with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in the near future and see if we can give us any assistance with it.

We do intend to follow up with some kind of guidelines for a year-round school.

Families who have both grade-school and high school children might find personal difficulties if children's vacations are not coordinated.

Working mothers, too, could have problems.

This led plans to hurt that this community-university school plan and really wanted to adopt it.

What did people here not like about it year-round schooling?

High School District 214 (Arlington, Prospect, Forest View, Wheeling, Elk Grove, and Hervey High Schools, and Arlington Heights District 23) would attend school about the same number of days as they now do, but vacations would be scheduled differently and not all students would be in school at the same time.

Please fill on the coupon, and return it to any of The Day offices—217 S. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights; 171 S. Main, Mount Prospect; 722 Center St., Des Plaines. Don't forget to tell us whether you're a student, or involved personally with school or not.

We appreciate having your name and address, but you don't have to fill the coupon if you don't want to.

If you'd like to write us more details of your opinion, please do.

Some junior high students from Palatine-Selling Meadows District 15 go to District 214, one to High School District 211; in Palatine, one high school system adopts year-round schooling, and the other doesn't.

District 15 would face a big problem if it doesn't have to make.

Similarly, River Trails District 216, one of the high schools in most of its graduates at District 214 schools. But children who live at Maryville who are being bused there by District 214 to High School District 207 in Des Plaines.

One problem families here would face if High School District 214 went to the year-round school plan is the.

What happens to the students in the year-round of the area, to a school system on the conventional two-semester plan?

In the Arlington Heights, according to Village Clerk, John Hovory, year-round registration, there's 30 turnover in students per year.

That 214 figures show that 454 students transferred into the system during the 1968-69 school year, at Arlington 73 at Prospect, 62 at Forest View, 162 at Wheeling, and 91 at Arlington.

THERE WERE 441 students who dropped out of District 214 schools during the same period: 135 at Arlington, 109 at Prospect, 71 at Forest View, 164 at Wheeling, and 132 at Elk Grove High School. Some of these students have left school permanently, but the majority have moved, with their families, out of High School District 214.

"I'm in favor of looking closely at year-round schooling," said Jack Martin, the district's administrative assistant to the superintendent.

"This led plans to hurt that this community-university school plan and really wanted to adopt it."

What did people here not like about it year-round schooling?

Teachers Knew They Could Be Fired Before They Started Teaching: Lahti

By Ruth Schuman

A contract places responsibility upon all parties to uphold it. Dr. Robert Lahti, president of Harper College and secretary.

He was referring to the agreement signed by faculty member, himself, and the board's president and secretary.

For an exclusive interview with The Day, the college official presented the school administration's viewpoint in the present conflict involving at the school over the dismissal of two instructors.

THE FACULTY is lined up on one side, the board of trustees and the administration on the other.

Disturbed by the dismissal of Edward Kalin, science instructor, and Dr. Betty Ensbay, physical science teacher, the faculty sent a protest petition to the board, followed by a letter last week recommending avenues of immediate action.

"Why has the administration remained silent during this issue?" Dr. Lahti replied.

"The administration is charged with looking at the present and future of this entire educational institution."

"Our silence is indicative of our willingness to listen first for facts and specifics which will lead to a solution of the problem and to a better college serving the interests of the entire community."

"We cannot participate in personal indignations, and all hope to develop understanding through a free difference of opinion on the operation and management of this institution."

Harper Faculty Asks for Talks With Trustees

The methods used in recent sessions taken against the board's decision to dismiss the faculty and may cause harm to faculty government on this campus in the future," says a resolution passed by the Harper College Senate at a meeting yesterday.

The school's faculty senses passed the motion, requesting that the school's board of trustees meet with the senate as soon as possible to discuss the current conflict which started with the dismissal of two teachers.

Robert Powell, division chairman of the English, foreign language and speech department, introduced the motion.

Obituaries

Thomas Fitzsimmons
1036 E. Franklin St., Mount Prospect, died yesterday in Evanston Hospital.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Fitzsimmons; five brothers, Richard, Edward Jr., John, Dennis and James and four sisters, Mrs. Thelma Josephine, and Corina.

Funeral will be held at St. Stanislaus and St. Charles Funeral Home, 2000 E. North Ave., Arlington Heights.

Service will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Emily's Church, Mount Prospect. Burial will be in Mount Carmel Hillside Cemetery, Mount Prospect.

Thieves Take Table, Chairs

The theft of a dining room table and four chairs from a "modern home" under construction at 11711 S. Fernside, Arlington Heights, was reported to police yesterday.

Polic said this morning was passed by leaving a window in the front room of the 1 1/2-story bungalow subdivision, to take the furniture, valued at $300.

agreed that this contract is for a term not to exceed one year, and that it will apply on or after the date of the contract. The board is under no obligation to renew the same."

THE CONDITIONS of this contract are certainly not identical to private industry and in the majority of instances in the public sector, Lahti said.

Lahti said it is important the community understand that the dismissal action was initiated at the bottom level of the school's operation, not from the top.

After two years of observation and review, the immediate supervisor of the instructors made the dismissal recommendation. Dr. Kenneth Andersen, dean of instruction.

Robert Lahti

"Why doesn't the board show some when it doesn't renew a contract?" was the second query.

"The employment policy of the board is one which has been known to the faculty before the signing of their first contract," said Lahti.

"In addition, each faculty member was given a policy manual upon reporting for duty. Appropriate orientation was given to each new faculty member to discuss and understand the policies."

"Each faculty member has signed and agreed to the following statement at least once, and in the case of employees in their second year."

The statement which is part of the contract that all teachers sign reads:

"The employee has read the entire policy as well as all other policies adopted and enforced as of the date thereof, understands said policies and agrees to abide thereby."

"It is understood and After reviewing the merits of the case, Dr. Andersen concurred, and then made his recommendation to me as president of the college," said Lahti.

"I heard the case and concurred. In fact, I said, 'Gentlemen, you must be ready to state your case in front of the full board.'"

"Next, the supervisor (John Bartholomew) and dean (Andersen) presented the case as they had it with it before the board in executive session."

"After hearing the facts, the board concurred in the judgment of three different persons—representing three different levels of administration," said Lahti.

Taize Brothers Lead Unity Service At First Presbyterian

The Taize Brothers of the Taizé Community, France, will lead the "Service for the Unity of All Christians" at the First Presbyterian Church, 1100 W. 1st St., Sunday at 8 p.m. Jan. 19, at the First Presbyterian Church, Clinton and Eastman Sts., Arlington Heights. This worship service will begin the observance of the Year of the Christian in 1970.

"All Christians should have a greater experience of our oneness in Christ," recently stated Rev. Larry D. Cardwell, pastor at Lutheran Church of the Cross and chairman of the worship committee. "This service will be a fitting way to celebrate our unity and become more aware of our oneness in Christ."

NO BETTER example could be found to lead Christians of various particular service than the Taize Brothers, for their community is a service in Christian unity. The 10 brothers of the community come from various denominational backgrounds. They are Lutheran, Reformed, United Church of Christ and Roman Catholics who live together, work, worship and pray together. The goal of the Taize Brothers is to bring the unity of Christians by working for it and witnessing to it with their lives.

"If we are to share with God, we must be able to share with our fellow man."

Brother Frank, leader of the Taizé Community, "Sharing with others changes a person's view of himself and his world."

The Taizé Community began in Taizé, France, in 1940 and their movement began to grow after World War II. The brothers have three communities in Africa, and one each in Brazil, Chile and France.

ALL PEOPLE of the Arlington Heights are urged to attend this service and take the opportunity to start with the Taize Brothers.

"From this experience we hope to begin to encounter one another as Christians and to be more effective in our community," stated Father Bernard Schuler, chairman of the service planning.

Following the service a fellowship hour will be held. During this period the Taizé

The Taizé Brothers, here shown at worship in their chapel at 110 W. Locust, Chicago, will lead the "Service for the Unity of All Christians" 8 p.m. January 19 at the First Presbyterian Church, Arlington Heights. The Taizé Community is an example of a vocation in Christian unity, serving its brothers from various denominations.

Brothers will lead discussion groups for those persons who are interested.

An offering of non-perishable canned goods will be accepted and the gifts will be given to the Community Pantry on the north side of Chicago to help the needy.

St. James Board Sees Fiscal Problems Ahead

By Richard Crabb

St. James Parish School will continue to operate in the next five years, according to Emil Becker, president of its board of education.

Becker, who is a special fund raising director for the school, said that the school's budget for 1970-71 is $150,000. The school's income is derived from parish members, who pay a fee of $1.50 per child.

from Pelaine Rd. on the north to Northwest Hwy. on the south, has lost about 600 in the past five years, although the enrollment has remained relatively stable at 1,150.

The St. James elementary school operates on a budget of $175,000 a year. Student tuition accounts for only a small part of the operational revenue. Families in the parish are the main source.

Costs have been rising especially rapidly since most of the parish are now teaching at little direct cost to the parish, are now becoming less available for this purpose. Lay teachers who draw regular salaries are bringing in to take their place.

will have to be lowered by an amount up to $100,000. To effect a reduction in operational expense of $100,000 would mean closing about 16 classrooms or reducing the number of teachers by about half. The effect of this would be to reduce the St. James school program, resulting in the loss of 1,150 students into the public schools.

While the parish families are interested in continuing the school, they are not recognizing that additional schools in the public school and that there are facilities available at the parish school which cannot private schools.

NATIONAL SELECTED MORTICIAN

The Death of a Christian

By GERRY WALSH

One of our country's few Christian died recently in Benik, thousands of miles from his home here in the United States. He was a Trappist monk, Rev. Thomas M. (1915-1968) died of a heart attack while on a pilgrimage to the Holy Land.

He also said that if we have gotten to the point where we are frequently, if not constantly, framed in such a way that we are easily crushed by a privileged group, then the death of a Christian is a tragedy. It is a tragedy because it is a tragedy.

MY LOCAL Christian Church group was in shock. They had heard of his saintly life, but they couldn't believe what he was saying. For once the group was silent, I offered to send the book to anyone who might like to read it. I took my offer; in fact, not one woman there would have.

Attitudes Is Topic For Series

The Lutheran Church of the Cross, 2025 S. Goetzberg Rd., Arlington Heights, is sponsoring a "Discussion on Attitudes" beginning at 8 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 20. The discussion series will be held on four consecutive Monday evenings.

Week of Prayer
The Office of Unity, week of prayer for Christians, will be observed locally with an 8 p.m. ecumenical service Sunday, in Prospect Heights Community Church, 410 N. Elmhurst St. Prospect Heights. This service and one on Jan. 21 sponsored by the Mount Prospect Area Ministerial Association. The Rev. Albert W. Wadsworth, past president of the association and pastor of Our Lutheran Church, will preach.

touching that book with a 10 foot pole.

Thomas Merton did have some prophetic and hard saying. "The Civil Rights movement is not the end of the battle but only the beginning of a new and more critical phase of the conflict."

He also said that if we have gotten to the point where we are frequently, if not constantly, framed in such a way that we are easily crushed by a privileged group, then the death of a Christian is a tragedy. It is a tragedy because it is a tragedy.

thought. He suggests that this may be too simple for most Christians.

His statement makes me think of the old adage, "Christianity is not a religion but a way of life." It is a way of life that is not based on a set of rules but on a set of principles.

"Owl and Pussycat" Gets Another Extension

"The Owl and the Pussycat," current stage attraction at the Country Club Theatre at Old Orchard has been extended for the second week.

The play, originally scheduled to close in November, will now run through Sunday, Feb. 1. According to publicity rep. Gen. Gentile, there will be no further extensions without can replacements because Paula Goddard and John Cox have other professional commitments.

The success of the two character play by John Galsworthy written by Bill Manoff apparently shows that the public is trying to say something to the local theatre groups. The play definitely borders on the "border" side for family consumption but is received with hearty by adult audiences.

Country Club Theatre, located in the beautiful setting of the Old Orchard Country Club at Sand and Buxton in Mount Prospect, is a pre-eminant legitimate theatre that is open nightly except on Mondays. Theatre tickets are $3 and $4 and a theatre-dinner combination is available starting at $5.95. For further information or reservations, the number to call is 295-5400.

A Challenge To Joggers

They're running around in circles these days at the Mill Run Playhouse in the Golf Mill Shopping Center.

The members of the "Mr. Roberts" company, the current attraction starting John Gavin and John Garfield Jr. have turned the upper tier of the circle theatre into a circular path.

In the interest of physical fitness and diminished waistlines, the play's predominantly male cast has been using the theatre's upper circle for running exercises. They've improved their forms so much that they are inviting all other theatrical companies in the Chicago area to challenge them to a race next month. The date is set for 5:30 a.m. Sunday at the Mill Run Playhouse, 600 Golf Mill Shopping Center.

Officers For Theatre Guild

Two new officers have been named to the Board of Directors of the Des Plaines Theatre Guild, Phyllis Ball, 271 Windsor Dr., Palatine, replaces Miss Nancy Lee as ticket chairman. Miss Lee died Oct. 7. Mort Soley, 2707 Fremont, Palatine, has been named treasurer to fill the vacancy created when Jim Fry of Park Ridge was transferred to St. Louis last November.

James Curran of Des Plaines was transferred to Ft. Wayne, Ind. His place on the board has been filled by Dan Rowe, 5555 Des Pl. Dr., Des Plaines.

Des Plaines Theatre Guild

There is no about one thing that is true, "Theatre Guild" is a place where you can find a lot of fun.

Two Bed Ideas

Call the bedroom furniture at right "Early American Jungle" if you want, but it will definitely furnish bedrooms from overactive youngsters jumping on their bed. Mother will appreciate the added storage space for the amount of miscellaneous clutter, which would otherwise jam the closets. Bright chrome bars and some gay colorful painting combinations will put up into the youngsters' sleeping quarters. To get the cutting diagrams, plans and full instructions send 10 cents to American Plywood Assn., 1119 A St., Tacoma, Wash. 98401, and ask for No. 6-2323 Jungle Gym Bed plan. Better, the easy-to-build hideaway bed includes a slide. Designed by Michael Cox and Associates of New York, the bed can be built by the homeowner in the family from plywood panels, plus an assortment of nails, glue, screws, a handful of bolts and nuts. The plan offered for 10 cents by American Plywood Assn. spells out easy cutting diagrams, layout, and actual construction.

Hoffman Estates Village Hall Symbol of 100 Years' Past

Hoffman Estates village administration eyes the present municipal building with misty eyes. The way it was built, the pressure for a new village hall built in the other direction.

The village hall stands on a small, overlooking Illinois Blvd. At night, floodlights emphasize its role as the guardian of more than 100 years of history.

POTTAWATOMI Indians and immigrant German farmers exchanged greetings on the front porch.

The hopes and dreams of three generations of one family echo in its walls.

The creative genius of the Hoffmann family leaves a musical and theatrical heritage.

The birth and struggle of an infant village look place here. Today, debates are heard in the council chambers, as Hoffman Estates approaches a quarter of a century of existence.

Turn back the pages to 1915. The Giescke farm was purchased from the U. S. government sometime between 1850 and 1860 for $5 an acre. Giescke was used to cultivate the land with horse power taking over a few years later.

Rode Rd. was called Elgin Rd. by the inhabitants because Elgin was the center of commerce and industry. Higgins Rd. was still an Indian trail and Chicago would never amount to a hill of beans. It was simply too far away.

John and Caroline Giescke, German immigrants, started farming in Schaumburg Township - the heart of the picturesque country of Cook County - during the middle 1800's.

The 1915 picture, taken by an itinerant photographer, shows how the Hoffman Estates village hall looked then.

tion of Giescke built this home, an Indian trail ran behind the building and it was not unusual for the Indians to stop for a rest and visit on the front porch.

It took 24 hours, with a team and wagon, to make the road trip to the farmer's market on Elgin Av. in Chicago when the roads were dry.

When John and Engel Giescke, the second generation, took over the management of the farm, potatoes became a principal cash crop. Poultry, dairy products, grain and corn were also profitable for the Giescke family. The center of commerce and industry shifted from Elgin to Chicago.

The year 1943 witnessed the end of an era. John and Edwin Giescke (third generation) now the family farm sold to city folk.

Arthur and Dorothy Hoffman purchased the farm for $150 an acre. The Hoffmans are happy and this couple wrought a change on the land.

Arthur Hoffmann, the son of Oscar Hoffmann. Though he lives in Florida, he returns frequently to visit old friends.

He had 31 Broadway hits to his credit before his death in 1954. "Rose Marie," "Naughty Marietta" and the 1915 Parade song "Because Of You" are among his works.

Dorothy Hoffmann is the former Dorothy Dalton, silent screen actress of the early 1900's. Mrs. Hoffmann is still part of Hoffman Estates because she owns the farm home at 175 Aberdeen.

ARTHUR Hoffmann is preferred New York and Broadway, however, Dorothy was the farming enthusiast and loved the seclusion of rural life in Schaumburg Township.

Headwaters was the name of their property here, and when the problems of farming would get too much for him, would get too much for him, (Continued on Page 19)

Hoffman Estates Village Hall to Move From Historic Farmhouse

Arthur Hammerstein jokingly would call his place
"Moon-Joke."

The enlargement of the house gave it five bedrooms, seven bathrooms, servants' quarters, a basement kitchen, two fireplaces and a wine cellar.

Hoffman Estates village hall is probably the only municipal building in the nation with a wine cellar - now depository for lost, stolen or confiscated articles put there by the police department.

Headacres produced pure blooded and registered Duroc Jersey hogs and Holstein dairy cattle. This registry is still listed today under the title of Gordon Farm.

The Hammerstein era in the history of the Hoffman Estates village hall ended with Arthur's death in 1954 and the purchase of Headacres by Jack Hoffman of F&J Construction Co. late the

Latch On to Louver Panels
For Unique Decorating Ideas

Shutters, or louvered doors—call them what you will—are very much in right now.

You can use them to dress up your house in a very decorative manner or in a very functional but attractive

Almost every lumber yard carries unfinished louvered doors in a variety of sizes that you can easily trim to fit particular situation.

EVEN some department stores are stocking them in the same department in which they carry draperies and Venetian blinds and window shades.

Shutters go back hundreds of years but they are as eye-catching and functional now as they ever were. With a few louvered panels picked up at the lumber yard you can make shutters for your house quickly.

But shutters for your windows is only one use for louvered panels. You can use them as doors for wardrobes and closets, as window blinds as folding screens and as room

THE STRUCTURE now became the field headquarters for this builder, now called Hoffman-Rosner Corporation.

On November 11, 1959, the community center, the 125-foot Hammerstein bar, burned to the ground, with the Hammerstein home also being damaged by the flames.

Fearing that perhaps their offices were in danger, Jack Hoffman moved his company out of the Hammerstein home and turned the deed to the property over to the Hoffman Estates, Morris O'Connell Association.

After Hoffman Estates was incorporated as a village on

The silo and the hay barn ramp were demolished several months after the fire. Several smaller homes on the property were torn down late in 1962. All that remains today is the Hammerstein home and a small barn, which houses the Boys Club.

The village government moved into its new home with all of the offices occupying was completed on the interior of the village hall; however, the exterior remains the same except, for a small police department lock-up built onto the back of the building later in 1964.

Service counters were built, walls panelled or painted and floors tiled. Finally the work was completed on the interior.

IN JANUARY, 1964, the village went into the water and sewerage business and a vault was constructed in the Clerk's Office. A partition had to be constructed to the same office, to make a sound barrier against the clatter made by accounting machines.

The basement of the village hall contains the Civil Defense emergency operations center, a workshop for the water department and maintenance shop for the

When driving along Illinois Blvd., especially at night when the building is lighted, it is hard to believe that this sentinel of history faces an uncertain future.

The truth is, the Hoffman Estates village hall is literally bursting at the seams with the need for expanded and modernized office facilities reaching the critical point. Hoffman Estates now has population of 20,000 and the projected population is 60,000 by 1980. Increased population growth of this magnitude will bring demand for more municipal services.

The Bell Town keys to faster, easier home ownership.

Exclusive 1/10% Mortgage Interest Rate. Bell Savings' unique 1/10% progressive rate structure provides more flexibility than the traditional increments in home loan interest rates. It assures you of the most equitable rate at all times. And, depending on the original down payment, it can provide considerable savings over the term of the mortgage. Let's you get the best possible commitment on the best possible terms.

Exclusive 6-Way Savings. You can save six ways on a Bell Home Loan. Every Bell Home Loan offers many special features. Smaller immediate cash outlay. Monthly interest reductions—you pay interest only on your unpaid balance. No hidden clauses. No prepayment penalty. Pre-payment interest reductions—pre-payments reduce the cost of your loan. You only pay interest when you owe it—never before. Come in today or Call:

At Any Given Moment

there are thousands of lovely homes for sale. But not many have brand names, like cars or washing machines. So how do you even start looking for the home that's exactly right for your family? The only sensible answer is to look for this nationally recognized brand - the seal that identifies a Realtor. He will save you time, energy and headaches. There really isn't any other right way to find and buy your home.

"Realtor of the Day"

Julie Baines
REALTOR
BAINES REALTY INC.

In 1956 Julie Baines of Baines Realty Inc. received her Real Estate Broker's License from the State of Illinois. Many people would say she would never make it. What does a nurse anesthetist know about real estate? At the end of 12 years the little office down on Le Street is still going strong. The office is known for the sale of vacant as well as improved property.

Mrs. Julie Baines might be thought of as a traditional little Yankee from Connecticut with an excellent sales force.
